NAZIS SEIZE 2 BRITISH CHANNEL ISLANDS

NEWSPAPER DIVISION
STATE LIBRARY OF MASSACHUSETTS

BERLIN, July 1 (AP)—German troops have occupied the British channel islands of Guernsey and Jersey, the high command announced tonight. It said Nazi forces landed on Guernsey yesterday and Jersey today. Two British fighting planes were shot down in these operations, it said.

WOUNDED FLOCK INTO BUCHAREST

BUCHAREST, July 14 (AP)—Trainloads of Rumanian wounded arrived in the capital shortly after noon today for hospitalization. They were understood to have been wounded in clashes with Russian troops on the Prut river.

At the same time military quarters declared the probability of further clashes between Rumanian and Russian forces was heightened by the fact the Russian army was increasing the tempo of its occupation of ceded Bessarabia and northern Bucovina.

Today, it was reported, parachute troops were "rained" on parts of the provinces not yet occupied.

AIR TANKS LANDED
The guns of Russian baby tanks landed by plane meanwhile dominated the lower Danube, vital water way linking Germany with the east, as Soviet troops hastened today to complete their occupation of the ceded Rumanian territories of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina.

BULLETIN

BUDAPEST, July 1 (INS)—A bloody Communist rebellion, in which hundreds of Reds were shot by troops at Galatz in Rumania, was reported in dispatches to Budapest today.

Official German reports to Berlin estimated that at least 500 Jews were shot and killed by Rumanian police at Galatz following pro-Soviet demonstrations.—Editor's note.

Thousands of Communists, waving red flags, marched through the Moldavian city, situated not far from the border of Bessarabia, now being occupied by Soviet troops. Rumanian soldiers repeated volleys at the Communists, killing hundreds. Their bodies "covered the pavements," according to reports here. At nearby Reni a similar rebellion was reported to have preceded the Russian occupation of the town.

The point at which the Russians landed tanks by plane to take quick command of the Danube was in the vicinity of Reni, where the Prut river flows into the larger waterway about 70 miles from the Black Sea.

Landing of the tanks, suspended between the wheels of big transport planes, caught the Rumanian garrison at Reni by surprise, and it was believed that the Red troops took over considerable quantities of military material.

Military experts in Washington said the Russians had been experimenting for some time with aerial transportation of five and seven-ton tanks.—Editor's Note.

BRITISH CRUISER HIT BY TORPEDO

BERLIN, July 1 (AP)—A British cruiser of the Orion class has been torpedoed south of Brest, the German high command announced today.

Eighteen British planes were shot down in a series of attacks against "non-military targets in northern, western and southern Germany" last night, the high command added.

The communique declared that one submarine had sunk 23,000 registered tons of enemy merchant shipping, adding:

"Two of the sunken steamers were torpedoed from a strongly protected convoy."
The Orion class consisted of five cruisers, the Orion, the Leander, Neptune, Achilles and Ajax, the last two having taken part in the Battle of Montevideo which led to the destruction of the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee.

Writer Tells Why Nazis Won; French Loss 1,500,000

Taylor Henry, 30-year-old native of Mineola, Tex., graduate of West Point, was accredited Associated Press correspondent with the French army during recent historic weeks. He survived German bombing raids, flew over the German lines with a French bombing squadron, saw the retreat of the French forces, and has arrived at the Spanish border.—Editor's Note.

By TAYLOR HENRY

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, July 1 (AP)—French casualties in the disastrous final month of the war with Germany were estimated unofficially today at 1,500,000 men, most of them listed as dead or missing.

It took Adolf Hitler's mechanized army approximately one month to destroy what 60 days ago still was described as the most efficient military machine in the world—the French army—and to overrun and occupy in its blitzkrieg more than half of France.

TELLS OF SLAUGHTER

When France decided on June 12 to plead for an armistice the situation was so desperate, it is reliably reported, that General Weygand told the historic midnight meeting of the French cabinet in a chateau near Tours that the French army had only cartridges enough to last three more days.

French ministers who had watched the army melt away along the line of the Somme and Aisne rivers wept as the generalissimo described how the Germans advanced, "slaughtering men who no longer have the means to defend themselves."

The full collapse of France as a military power is just beginning to be realized in France itself. The destruction of the army left the nation stunned.

3 FATEFUL LACKS

French leaders, including aged Marshal Henri Pétain, whose tragic task it was to sue for peace, now admit the collapse of the army was due to three causes:

- 1—Lack of equipment.
- 2—Lack of man-power.
- 3—Lack of determination.

The lack of equipment, which is emphasized as the outstanding reason for France's defeat, centered in aviation and tanks, Germany's main weapons.

In a radio speech to the nation, Pétain admitted German air superiority was 6 to 1. Time and again I saw three or four French pursuit ships rise to attack massed squadrons of 60 to 80 German bombers protected by 40 to 60 fighters.

The Germans organized their attack aviation so as to make simultaneous use of dive bombers and machine-gunning hedge-hoppers. They were able to hurl 300 and 400 planes against a 5-mile sector of the French front.

SLOW START, FEW PLANES

When the blitzkrieg started with a German attack against Holland and Belgium the entire French attack aviation numbered only 510 planes.

It was only in November, two

Rome Admits Destroyer Lost

ROME, July 1 (AP)—Capture of several British positions along the Libyan-Egyptian border was claimed by the high command today, which also said that an Italian torpedo boat had sunk a British submarine. It reported at least eight British planes were shot down.

It acknowledged the loss of the destroyer Espero, a 1073-ton warship with a normal complement of 143. The Espero, it said, failed to return to its base after "heroically" battling three British cruisers and several destroyers.

A communique of the British air force reported in Cairo that

R. A. F. bombers had scored direct hits on Italian troops near Siderat, Italian East Africa, and also had raided Accio, bombing two naval vessels there.—Editor's note.

Hub Experts Called In Oak Bluffs Slaying

OAK BLUFFS, July 1—Medical research experts, called by State Police, arrived at this Martha's Vineyard town by boat today to assist in an autopsy on the battered body of Mrs. Clara P. Smith, 70-year-old murder victim.

WILLKIE TO RESIGN UTILITIES POST

NEW YORK, July 1 (INS)—Wendell L. Willkie came back today to the scenes of his business triumphs, the towering skyscrapers of downtown New York, to fit himself through divestiture of his business interests for the slam-bang political campaign that lies ahead.

Refreshed after a week-end yachting cruises from the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia, the 1940 G. O. P. Presidential nominee waved cheerily to reporters as he stopped ashore at the World's Fair yacht basin.

One of his main objects during this stay here was to resign the presidency of Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, possibly to be accomplished during the day. Thereafter he was expected to concentrate on campaign strategy aimed at ousting the New Deal from control of the White House and of Congress.

Willkie was accompanied by his family, Mrs. Edith Willkie and the couple's son, Philip. He was in high spirits. His exuberance was evident when landing time came. He ignored the gangplank that had been run out to the yacht's deck and loyally grasped the pier with both hands to hoist himself ashore unaided.

Immediately thereafter Willkie was sped by automobile to New York city, where he had scheduled a press conference at his power company offices. There was no doubt of his earnestness in resigning the presidency of the giant utility he now heads.

"If I can get the board of directors together," he said, "I'll take the matter up with them today."

While preparations were made for the autopsy under the direction of Dr. Francis C. Buckley, assistant medical examiner, nearly a score of persons were questioned by Lieut. Ernest Bradford, state detective, concerning events prior to the murder.

TERRIBLY BEATEN

She had planned to leave on an early morning boat for a brief holiday in Nantucket but was found dead in a dormitory of the Rice School of Dramatic Art by a maid who had gone to call her.

The elderly victim's bed was drenched in blood, more stains were on the floor and walls, proof of a terrific beating which preceded her death.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward J. Harrington of West Bedford said all the evidence pointed to murder. The only known motive is robbery, and authorities admitted they were baffled tonight as to who might have committed the crime. The woman was known to have worn several valuable rings, which are missing.

FIVE CUTS ON HER HEAD

There are five or six deep cuts on the head, but the most detailed search of the building and surroundings failed to reveal the murder weapon. The dormitory is used by a branch of the Christian Society here before the Rice School and Summer Playhouse opens.

Mrs. Smith was accompanied here by Miss Pearl Bleakney, also of Dorchester. The women occupied separate rooms.

The slain woman's son, Clarence L. Smith, 35, of Seymour st., who came to Boston yesterday expecting to meet her, was in seclusion today at her apartment in Dorchester, refusing to see anyone.

Mrs. Smith, who was born in Pennsylvania but who came to Dorchester 40 years ago, also leaves a sister, Ethel Mathias of King Prussia, Pa., and a brother, Daniel Mathias, of Cleveland.

For many years Mrs. Smith's late husband was employed by Hugh Nawn, Dorchester contractor.

Countess Dies In Cape Crash, Husband Hurt

FALMOUTH, July 1—Countess Geraldine Podgoursky, former wife of Atty. Peter C. Borre of Boston, was killed today when an auto her husband, Count Ivan Podgoursky, was operating hit a tree near their summer home in West Falmouth.

The count was seriously injured. He was taken to Cape Cod hospital, Hyannis.

Countess Podgoursky died of injuries to the neck and base of the skull, according to Medical Examiner Ernest Curry of Sagamore.

The countess was the former Mrs. Geraldine Stone Borre. In 1921, she obtained a Mexican divorce from Atty. Borre, World War flier and prominent Boston attorney.

In December, 1921, she married Count Podgoursky, an exiled Russian nobleman.

Atty. Borre then obtained a Massachusetts divorce on grounds of cruelty, Mexican divorces not being legal in this state. Borre won custody of a daughter, Jacqueline.

In 1937 Atty. Borre married again, taking as his bride Miss M. Albina Balbonia of Bridgewater. A son was born to them in 1938.

City Employees Get 4 Days Off

Following the lead of Boston department stores and the State, Mayor Tobin today ordered a long Fourth of July holiday week-end for city employees.

Although the Hall will be officially open both Friday and Saturday, the majority of workers will not return until next Monday.

Mayor Tobin himself will not benefit from the two extra days off because of the press of official business and number of appointments on his schedule.

Cavalry Bogs Down In Five-Day Rain

CANTON, N. Y., July 1—With motorized vehicles hopelessly bogged down, the 10th Massachusetts Cavalry was up to its neck in mud here today.

Officers termed the camp site as the toughest they had encountered in years, with manpower necessary to lug in supplies. Mud was calf-deep after five days of continuous rain.

MISSING GIRL RETURNS

ALFRED, Me., July 1—State police today dropped the search for Doris L. Bracy, 20, after the father, Wilbur Bracy, announced she had returned safely. He offered no explanation of her whereabouts.

Hub Also Shells Out Tax For Defense

The buying public today got its first taste of the new national defense tax.

At midnight, higher levies went into effect in line with congressional legislation designed to raise $475,000,000 of a billion dollars for national defense.

While prices of some products, mostly in the so-called luxury class, were not immediately affected, autoists were assessed an extra one-half cent a gallon on gasoline.

Patrons of theaters and other amusement houses also began paying the tax at once. As decreed by the law, the public paid a tax of one cent on every 10 cents of admission fee on tickets costing 21 cents or more.

THEATERS COLLECT

Hereafter, moviegoers paid no taxes when attending theaters which charge only 10 to 40 cents admission.

In some cases in Greater Boston, merchants had hiked the price of cigarettes to meet a half cent tax imposed on every package of cigarettes. In other cases, merchants with existing stocks on hand, maintained the old prices.

Liquor prices generally were not affected immediately.

The floor taxes are 75 cents a gallon on liquor and $1 a barrel on beer. Up to 100 gallons of liquor and all beer in the hands of retailers are exempt from the floor tax, but there are no exemptions for the cigarette tax.

While the beer tax is not imposed on retailers, it must be paid by wholesalers and brewers on all their stocks. Congress, it was explained, levied these taxes so that merchants who bought supplies in anticipation of the increase, would have to pay just the same.

COMPARISON IN PRICE

Here is the increase on various newly produced products and services:

Toilet preparations boosted from 10 to 11 per cent; automobiles from 3 to 3½ per cent; radios, 5 to 5½ per cent; matches 5 to 5½ cents a thousand; electric energy, 3 to 3½ per cent; gasoline, 1 to 1½ cents a gallon; lubricating oil, 4 to 4½ cents a gallon; playing cards, 10 to 11 cents a pack; club dues and initiation fees, 10 to 11 per cent.

Most Stocks Slip Lower

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—A slightly lower drift was exhibited by stock markets today as many traders stood aside to await clarification of European developments. Trading was the slowest for the last several weeks.

Backward were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, United Aircraft, Public Service of N. J., Phelps Dodge, Texas Corp. and Southern Railway. Mild resistance was shown by Anaconda, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio and Standard Oil of Indiana.

Most bonds were unable to make headway and commodities were uneven. "Free" sterling slipped.

4 Grandparents Save 3 in Walpole Blaze

WALPOLE, July 1—Five persons, three small children and their grandparents, fled from their burning home in bare feet and night clothing today as a $50,000 fire destroyed three buildings in the heart of town.

A 2½-story frame building, occupied by the H. A. Spear & Son Hardware Co., an adjoining wood-working shop and a rear apartment were swept by the blaze, for which two alarms were sounded.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Baker, tenants of the apartment, were awakened by the intense heat and sound of crackling flames. They aroused the three grandchildren, Henry Hogarth, 10, his brother, John, 8, and sister, Ruth, 6, and ran to the street.

Within a few minutes, the fire had eaten into stocks of paint and varnish in the hardware store and soon 35-foot flames broke through the roof.

Sparks and smoke billowed above the business center, attracting a large crowd of spectators.

William Dowling, 35, a fireman assigned to Engine 2, fell 17 feet from a ladder during the blaze and suffered a severe gash on his forehead.

Ex-Cop Starts Life Anew in Priesthood

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—A former traffic patrolman clad in the vestments of the church celebrated his first mass on the altar of vaulted St. Patrick's Cathedral before 3500 New York policemen, including ranking officials.

Orphaned at 12, a plumber's helper during his youth and a policeman from 1925 until 1932, the Rev. Daniel M. Gleason, 37, was ordained June 24 at Notre Dame University after eight years' study.

After the mass, police marched to a hotel for luncheon. Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine presented the priest a golden chalice, a gift from his former police associates.

Speakers extolled Father Gleason's sacrifices during the years when he directed traffic by day and studied at night. He was an honor graduate of an evening high school and ranked high in his Fordham University extension classes.

The Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, Bishop of the U. S. Army and Navy, told the priest:

"You have approached the priesthood by an unusual path, but one which has fitted you particularly well for priestly work."

"Let your rule be kindly, your teachings wise, your ministry zealous. Fix your gaze on eternity and you will lead many souls to God."

Wheeler Sees Anti-War Party

CHICAGO, July 1 (INS)—Creation of "a new and great anti-war party" was foreseen today by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D.) of Montana, in the event the Democratic party fails to adopt a strong peace plank at its national convention in Chicago later this month.

Speaking at a "Keep America Out of War" mass meeting, Sen. Wheeler charged that the Republican party "calmly and carefully refused to pledge itself that no drop of blood of an American youth shall be spilled on a foreign shore for the purpose of interfering in an European or Asiatic conflict."

The Montanan promised: "If neither party is willing to give this pledge to the American people, then a new and great anti-war party will arise to challenge both the old parties."

Because of the disruption to the recreational program that would be caused by the proposed dismissals, Wilson declared that he will ask for a year's waiver of the order.

N. E. MILLMEN SWAMPED BY U. S. DEFENSE ORDERS

From the anxiety of but comparatively few months ago by New England manufacturers as to where they could get orders, the situation has changed today almost to one of perplexity over the matter of filling orders.

With contracts for cloth for army uniforms, for shoes, for blankets, for sheets and for other articles given New England concerns under the national defense program, the rush is on to hire new help.

Not through wishful thinking did U. S. Sen. David I. Walsh, a few weeks ago, assert that the national defense program would solve, in large measure, the unemployment problems in this northeastern area of the nation.

JINGLE IN POCKETS

What the senior senator from Massachusetts observed at that time bids fair now to come true, with the jingle of wages being heard more loudly and musically in New England than in years.

At Lawrence alone, as the result of contracts awarded to the American Woolen, the Pacific and the Arlington mills, it is anticipated that employment, which is now rated 30 per cent, will rise shortly to 65 or 70 per cent, and within three months will be at 100 per cent normal.

Hundreds of relief recipients will go off the welfare rolls to payrolls, and similar situations will prevail in many other New England communities.

But with all the bounty descended upon them, some manufacturers are hard put to solve the problem of getting out their normal orders and calling up reserves from the army of unemployed for the task also of getting out the government orders.

Walter Humphrey of the National Wool Manufacturing Association, 80 Federal st., gave an insight to this in observing that the national defense contracts by the Army are a blessing, not only to New England but to other sections of the country, particularly New Jersey and Georgia.

If continued, the surge will bring employment in the mills back to normal, he said.

BUSY ON YULE ORDERS

But, he pointed out, while work has been slack and many mills had a problem on their hands to keep busy the comparatively few hands employed, blanket mills in particular are now embarrassed with the army contracts, inasmuch as they are engaged at present in making their Christmas lines.

These mills are faced with the probability that they will not only have to staff themselves fully, but must work extra shifts to keep up with the sudden orders.

A substantial part of the $27,234,460 orders for fabrics for Army uniforms is currently being turned out by New England mills at an average contract price of $2.50 a yard.

And a direct result of this government stimulation is greater interest in the piece goods markets by clothing manufacturers, who vision higher prices for next spring's suitings.

Statistically the wool fabric situation is extremely favorable from the standpoint of the mills. They have a backlog of some 35,000,000 yards of cloth on order, as compared with only 20,000,000 yards a year ago.

SUPPLIES RUN SHORT

Another feature of interest is the forecast of probable shortages in worsteds. Mills have not accumulated stocks and are in an excellent position to advance prices. Some increases of 5 and 10 cents a yard were made last week.

With retail merchants anxiously eyeing the supply outlook and figuring on a fall upswing comparable to, if not sharper than that of last year, trade observers are talking of a brisk fillip in mill employment.

In the shoe and leather trade this past week, government orders were held responsible for a moderate rise in hide and upper leather prices which contributed an unexpected note of cheer.

Because this is the quiet, in-between shoe manufacturing season, many manufacturers lean to the idea that price rises now will lead to more free buying by retailers usually accustomed to haggle over price boosts in past years.

The manner in which buying contagion spreads is aptly illustrated by the situation in women's wear woolsens. Business has been particularly heavy in this line which clearly has no direct connection with the defense program ordering.

HEAVY BUYING SEEN

New York selling centers have reported back to New England mills that fall lines are meeting with a good response and indications point to heavy buying this month of July.

In the matter of statistical evidence of the pickup in interest, and reports that more buyers are present in the market than for many weeks, the unfilled order figure for women's wear textiles is 11,000,000 yards.

Meanwhile, new construction for industry is under way and plans of more to come are rapidly being rushed to completion.

And last week department store sales in New England were up 7.5 per cent as compared with the same period in 1939.

(In tomorrow's editions of the Boston Evening American will appear the third in this series of articles. Watch for it.)

TAX IS ON THE HOUSE

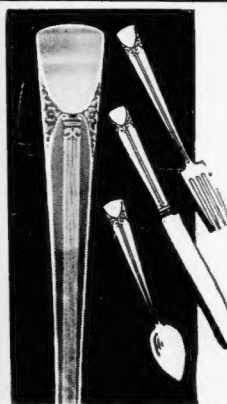

For the time being at least, major hotel cafes and lounge bars will not hike liquor prices to meet additional costs imposed by the new national defense tax, the City of Boston Ass'n said today.

4 DEAD, 12 MISSING IN TEX. FLOOD

HALLETTSVILLE, Tex., July 1 (AP)—Floodwaters from cloud-burst-swollen streams raced across Southeast Texas toward the gulf today, after killing at least four persons, making hundreds homeless and doing uncounted damage.

Epidemic and famine threatened this town of 1800 persons, hardest hit of several communities flooded. Heavy rains sent the Lavaca, Colorado and Guadalupe rivers surging through business districts and across fertile farming lands.

More than a dozen persons were missing after a 30-minute flash flood poured a 15-foot wall of water down the usually-placid Lavaca.

DAMAGE IS $500,000

Damage here was estimated by C. S. Morgan, Yokum newspaper editor, at more than $500,000.

The bodies of John Svab, Joseph Stanzel and his daughter, Agnes, were recovered. The missing included Mrs. Stanzel and Mr. and Mrs. John Sereck (CQ) whose homes were swept down the river.

Earl Marks, 15, drowned in the flooded little river near Temple.

For half of Hallettsville's population which lives along the river there was little warning before homes began tumbling into the torrent. Water rose 4 to 6 feet in all except three business houses.

12-INCH RAINFALL

The flood followed a 12-inch rain in 12 hours.

Three hundred Hallettsville families were homeless, and Dr. Harvey Renger, city health officer, appealed for 1500 shots of typhoid vaccine. He said the town's water mains were contaminated. Food supplies were low.

State highway patrolmen threw a cordon around the business district to guard against possible looting.

Several hundred persons were rescued from homes and the tops of buildings by boatmen in the Hallettsville and Cuero areas.

Damage at Cuero was estimated unofficially at more than $150,000 after the Guadalupe river rose 12 feet in some business houses.

Jamaica Plain Girl Missing

Police search was begun today for Miss Thelma S. Sullivan, 18, former Jamaica Plain high school honor student, revealed as missing from her home in Holbrook st., Jamaica Plain, since May 23.

Strikingly attractive, with blue eyes and brown hair, Miss Sullivan was graduated from high school in 1938. She had failed to find employment since that time, and her parents thought at first she had left home to look for a job in some other city.

They said the missing girl's grandmother is ill from worry. Miss Sullivan has a small mole on her upper lip, according to the description furnished police. She is five feet eight inches tall.

British Fliers Bomb Italian Troop Bases

CAIRO, July 1 (INS)—Wide-spread bombing raids on Italian troop concentrations and a naval base were reported today in the Royal Air Force communique. It said:

"Our bombers attacked the troop concentration near Sadberat, scoring direct hits. No serious opposition was encountered, and all our aircraft returned safely."

U. S. Acts to Bar Spies at Borders

A once somewhat trusting Uncle Sam today turned suspicious, officially and drastically.

Immigration restrictions, reminiscent of the severity of World War days, went into effect. They're designed to keep out possible Fifth Columnists.

Even neighbors from friendly Canada must now carry a passport. Such passports generally cost $1 but the authorities in Canada, acting to ease the situation, will issue a special passport to their citizens for $1.

This passport, good for a year, traveling to and from Canada, must bear the visa of the U. S. consular which is free.

More drastic are the rules for other aliens. Hereafter, alien seamen will not be permitted to roam ashore at will but will be under close watch.

Aliens leaving the country will have to call on the consul at whatever place they visit and obtain an $1 passport and visa.

Additional border patrol officers went on duty at all American boundaries. American citizens visiting Canada must carry birth certificates, voters' certificates or other adequate means of identification.

J. PAUL KEEFE BETTER

After three weeks of illness, J. Paul Keefe, secretary to former Gov. Ely, today was reported as out of danger by doctors at Charlesgate Hospital. He will remain at the hospital for at least another two weeks, it was declared by Dr. Manuel Amara.

The patriotic demonstration, marked by stirring speeches, music and the tramping of colors, was under auspices of the Massachusetts department, Jewish War Veterans, and was largely attended.

"It took the stunning developments abroad," said Sullivan, "to pierce our national apathy and to make us sense our danger. Yet our country need not have been caught napping."

"The American Legion, for 21 years, has been stressing the need of adequate national defense."

"Thank God, the nation has finally moved to remedy its defenses against attack."

GREATEST MENACE

"But the greatest menace to our country arises from within. The greatest fifth column in the world is right here in the United States. Fifth columnists have filtered into our vital industries, the ranks of labor, our schools, our homes and our churches."

"Let us re-dedicate ourselves to a firm determination to stand, shoulder-to-shoulder, during the present crisis united in a firm resolve to defend our peace and our institutions."

Joseph H. Cinamon, chairman of the Jewish War Veterans' Americanism committee, who presided said:

SPEAKERS—Attending Americanism meeting at Faneuil Hall, under the auspices of the Massachusetts department, Jewish War Veterans, were Edward J. Sullivan, Sadye Solomon, ladies auxiliary president, and Joseph Cinamon (l. to r.).

"The world, today, is too small to be divided into several ideologies of government. It cannot exist half freemen and half slaves, half totalitarian and half democracy. Such conflicting philosophies cannot exist, side by side, without one destroying the other."

Dr. Julius B. Tolitz, state commander of the Jewish War Veterans, former Senator Sybil Holmes, Major Willis Fitch, representing Gov. Saltonstall, David Lasker, one of the promoters of the meeting, were among a long list of speakers.

CELEBRATE SANE 4TH, HUB URGED

Led by Gov. Saltonstall, officials emphasized safety today as Greater Boston prepared to celebrate the Fourth of July with picnics, fireworks, motor trips, parades and other activities.

In his state-wide appeal to prevent needless loss of life and limb during the July 4th week end, Gov. Saltonstall said human life is held so cheap abroad, but "that peace still has its victories and conservation of life and limb is one of them."

URGES SANE CELEBRATION

The chief executive urged citizens to join with the Massachusetts Safety Council to organize a sane observance of the holiday in every neighborhood, on every highway and at public resorts.

"Death comes not alone from the careless handling of explosives, but from needless fires, reckless driving and drownings which often reach their peak in July," he declared.

PARADE TO STATE HOUSE

Boston's official program, still being augmented, will open at 9 a. m. Thursday with the flag raising at City Hall by Mayor Tobin.

A parade will move to the Boston Common for similar ceremonies at the flag pole, and then will march to the Old State House for the reading of the Declaration of Independence by James J. Sullivan of the Boston Latin School, clad in colonial dress.

The parade then will move to Faneuil Hall for the day's oration exercises. A community festival will start at 8 p. m. at the frog pond, with fireworks on the athletic field at 10 p. m.

New Panama Locks Started

PANAMA, July 1 (AP)—The big dredge "Las Casadas" was to lift the first 15-cubic yard scoop of mud today for the approach channel to the third set of locks for the Panama Canal.

The new Miraflores locks, authorized by Congress last August, will cost $227,000,000—about three-fourths of the original cost of the entire canal—and will be wider, longer and deeper than the others. Otherwise, the new locks will be like the first two sets, designed more than 30 years ago. Work is expected to last six years.

The new locks will be 140 feet wide, 1200 feet long and 45 feet deep. The present locks are 110 feet wide, 1000 feet long and 40 feet deep.

PAUL A. DEVER
Announces Candidacy

Spy Guards Put At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, July 1 (AP)—Extraordinary precautionary regulations virtually closing the great, miles-long port of New Orleans to all except those with special written permission went into effect today, and 50 guards were assigned to the port to enforce the orders.

The precautions were decreed by the port commission last year, but had not been enforced. Dock board officials explained the danger of Fifth Columnists and possible saboteurs now had reached the point that enforcement had become necessary.

Hereafter, no one will be allowed along the wharves and docks of the second largest port in the United States without special written permission, to be granted only for cause. The Canal st. plaza, and wharf, location of the principal ferry crossing of the Mississippi river, is the only exception.

Mother in Iron Lung to 'Win'

ERIE, Pa., July 1 (AP)—Smiling bravely, a 30-year-old mother who has been in an iron lung for eight months still predicts confidently that she'll win in her fight against infantile paralysis.

"There's no use looking at the dark side of this misfortune," declares Mrs. Glenn Wood. "Other people have licked this disease and I think I can, too. I'm down but I'm not out."

No one can say how long she'll have to remain in the lung but Mrs. Wood is looking forward to the day when she can leave it forever and return to her husband and three small children at nearby Corry.

Twice daily now she is able to stay out of the lung a short time. The rest of the day Mrs. Wood said "I just lie here and do a lot of thinking."

$4,062,624 for Youth Fund

WASHINGTON, July 1—Allocation of $4,062,624 to the six New England states for operation of the National Youth Administration out-of-school work program was announced today by Administrator Aubrey Williams to aid national defense plans.

In making public the allocations from a $67,884,000 fund for the fiscal year 1941, Williams said increased emphasis would be placed on projects offering work experience and basic training in mechanical pursuits in industries expanding as a result of national defense production.

New England allocations were as follows: Massachusetts, $2,119,947; Connecticut, $821,686; Rhode Island, $303,115; Maine, $377,724; New Hampshire, $216,540; and Vermont, $173,642.

Dever Candidate In Governor Race

Atty.-Gen. Paul A. Dever, only Democrat to win a major state office in the 1938 election, today became the third member of his party to seek the gubernatorial nomination.

In announcing his candidacy, Dever attacked the present Republican administration and pictured himself as the only guarantee for Democratic success in 1940.

"I submit, my record proves not only personal integrity, but of equal importance, intellectual honesty," Dever said in denouncing the administration of Gov. Saltonstall.

Citing some of the accomplishments of the attorney general's department in which Dever said he took "justifiable pride," he said in part:

"Through my efforts the tycoons of the power industry were compelled to make restitution to the Lowell Gas Light Co. of more than a million dollars which they had shamelessly pilfered through holding company manipulations.

COLONY FIGHT CITED

"Due mainly to the initial activity of the Attorney-General's department, the combined forces of the Commonwealth have been marshalled to protect the rights of the patrons of the Old Colony System against the determined opposition of powerful financial groups.

"The greed of extortionate loan companies has been punished by the indictment and conviction of those who prey on financial adversity. The financial forces which profited by the criminal sale of worthless stock have been convicted and sentenced to jail. The cruel and heartless conduct of 375 illegal collection agencies has been permanently restrained.

"Because of a ruling of the Attorney General, the Boston Elevated Railway was prohibited from unloading the Atlantic ave. Elevated structure on the taxpayers.

"More than six million dollars in unused or misused public charitable trust funds has been uncovered by the investigations of the Attorney General. These funds are now being used for such purposes as the assistance of the poor and the promotion of community welfare.

"During 1939 and 1940 the Commonwealth has been the recipient of more than $5,000,000 in taxes from the estate of the late Henry Howland Green. This money, which has contributed considerably to reducing the burden on our taxpayers, was obtained only after the attorney general's office had won a striking victory in the United States Supreme Court."

RAPS SALTONSTALL

Dever charged that the Saltonstall Republican administration on Beacon Hill obtained office under false pretenses and has been "a truly do-nothing administration."

"Nineteen hundred and forty is a crucial year," he said. "In the judgment of many, the coming election will determine whether or not the forces of reaction will remain in control of the State government for the next generation.

"Prior to the day of the Democratic primaries I shall devote my every effort, not to tearing down, but rather to building up the Democratic party. When nominated, I shall gladly assume the task of supplanting the present administration at the State House.

"That administration obtained office under false pretenses. It promised opportunity to young and security to the aged.

"It has failed miserably to keep these pledges. It promised economy and passed the largest state budget in history. It has accomplished nothing—a truly do-nothing administration.

"Positive leadership is demanded in the present emergency. That leadership I am prepared to give."

Fire Truck Drivers Have to Be Good

Outstanding safety records by operators of Boston fire apparatus today was attributed by fire officials to the rigid course all drivers must pass.

It was explained the recruits first must pass the sternest type of physical test, after which they drive in practice sessions. After showing steel nerves, strong hands and good eyesight, the chauffeurs are allowed to take apparatus into traffic. On this final test of ability rests their chances of qualification as experienced drivers.

SECRECY IN CABINET QUIZ HIT

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—Senatorial demands for open hearings on the Knox-Stimson cabinet appointments greeted Congressmen returning to work today after a week's recess.

Protesting that a "secret hearing would be very dangerous at this particular time," Sen. Holt (D.) of West Virginia said he would refuse to be bound by any secrecy pledge. "They can expel me from the Senate, but I won't be quiet about this," added the youngest Senator, a member of the Naval committee which will hear Col. Frank Knox, designated Secretary of the Navy, testify tomorrow on his qualifications.

Chairman Walsh (D.) of Massachusetts had announced that the committee session would be closed to the public.

While it is going on, the Senate military committee will ask Henry L. Stimson about his qualifications to be Secretary of War. Chairman Sheppard (D.) of Texas said this hearing probably would be private, although it had not been definitely decided.

New Cash Speeds All Defense Moves

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—The army geared up its defense program to higher speed today, while consumers started doing their bit by paying higher taxes on beer, liquor and cigarettes.

Intensive specialized training began for selected army officers and men. Numerous reserve officers, mostly youthful lieutenants, reported for active duty with troops, and long-deferred promotions took effect for hundreds of regular army officers.

At the same time, new funds became available for the purchase of arms, and the navy needed only President Roosevelt's approval of speedup legislation to order work started on 50 warships in addition to nearly 100 already in various stages of construction.

Although the start of the fiscal year on July 1 usually signals fresh activity, preliminaries to the defense expansion voted by Congress already are in full swing.

NEW SHIPS ORDERED

Congress released extraordinary defense appropriations for use as they were approved in recent weeks, and thus made possible an advance start on the augmented training of army, navy and civilian fliers and the placing of record contracts for warships, other weapons and supplies.

Key enlisted men started today on specialized army training at a dozen service schools previously reserved for officers. They will study the newest methods of mechanized warfare, as well as the skills and trades required by armies of machines. Officers will be given intensive one-month training at the same schools.

To help provide the $5,661,910,337 voted for defense in the new fiscal year—with possible more millions still to come—new defense taxes went into effect.

One phase of the army's drive was the recruiting of an additional 38,000 men to bring the ranks of the regulars to 280,000 by September. A further goal of 375,000 already has been set under the latest supplementary fund.

Reserve officers starting active duty today were the first of some 9,000 to be called in the next few months to train new troops and to fill subordinate posts.

In addition, 100 youthful reservists who have just completed a year's active duty became regular army second lieutenants, and the air corps commissioned 69 pilots who have had a reserve status.

He Cant Use Lie Detector on Wife

RALEIGH, N. C. July 1 (AP)

So Special Agent James Powell said "no" today to an irate husband who wanted to use the detector to find out whether his wife had been unfaithful.

Harvey J. Kelley of Laconia, a representative of the machinery, iron and metal products industry, was named chairman of the committee on industrial cooperation.

BALBO WAS SLAIN, BRITAIN BELIEVES

LONDON, July 1 (AP)—The British foreign office drew a parallel today between the "unexplained" death of Italy's Air Marshal Italo Balbo in a plane crash in Libya and that of Germany's Col.-Gen. Baron Werner von Fritsch in the siege of Warsaw.

Von Fritsch, a foreign office news department statement recalled, was an "opponent of Hitler's home and foreign policy."

Of Balbo, the statement said: "It will be recollected that he was appointed governor general in Libya because his presence in Italy was inconvenient to Signor Mussolini. Since then he has consistently been opposed to the policy of harnessing Italy to Hitler's war machine."

Quoting a German wireless announcement that "Balbo's death occurred in the same spirit as that of Gen. Von Fritsch," the foreign office declared:

"The only fact which can be established is that Marshal Balbo did not perish in combat with the Royal Air Force. A careful investigation shows that no British aircraft were concerned in the crash of Marshal Balbo's machine and there is thus no truth in the statement that he fell in battle. "As in the case of Fritsch and many others, the truth will probably never be known."

Egyptian Papers See Mystery in Balbo's Death

ALEXANDRIA, July 1 (AP)—Egyptian newspapers accused Italy today of withholding the "true circumstances" of the death of Air Marshal Italo Balbo in a plane crash at Tobruk, Libya, last Friday. The Egyptian Gazette said Balbo's death perhaps was not a great loss to "Il Duce and his satellites."

Authoritative sources reiterated that no British planes had attacked Tobruk at the time Balbo's plane went down, and said:

"Marshal Balbo met his death in a somewhat mysterious manner. It appears the Italian authorities should issue further details concerning the precise circumstances."

Marshal Graziani Takes Balbo's Job

ROME, July 1 (AP)—Marshal Rodolfo Graziani succeeded the late Marshal Italo Balbo today as commander of all Italian forces in Libya, the high command reported. Graziani, leader of the Fascist conquest of Libya and chief of staff of the Italian army, already has flown to the north African colony to replace Balbo, who died in a flaming airplane with eight military associates at Tobruk last Friday.

King George Inspects British Sea Defenses

LONDON, July 1 (AP)—King George accompanied by several army officers motored today to a southeast coast town and inspected defense preparations. Members of the party said the king showed "lively interest" in everything, "particularly along the sea front."

6 Army Officers Picked in State

WASHINGTON, July 1—Selection of six reserve officers from Massachusetts and one from Rhode Island for appointment as second lieutenants in the regular army was announced today by the War Department.

The Massachusetts appointees are George Cobb Benjamin, cavalry, of 107 Maple St., Let; Alfred Washburn Brunson, cavalry, of 9 Howlands lane, North Plymouth; Peter Denisevich, infantry, Beacon st., Granvilleville.

Also, Emerson Wallace Grant, cavalry, Bridge st., Middleboro; David William Lingham, infantry, 737 West Grand ave., Beloit; Clifford Ellwood Lippincott, cavalry, 104 Lauri st., Lee. The Rhode Island appointee is Stephen D. Young, Coast Artillery, 441 Eaton pl., Providence.

The men were appointed under the provisions of an act passed last year authorizing the army to give 1000 reserve officers a year's training and to select 10 per cent for regular army commissions.

Embassies Shut In Fallen Nations

BERLIN, July 1 (AP)—The German foreign office advised the United States embassy and presumably all other embassies today to discontinue all diplomatic missions in Norway, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands.

The missions must be discontinued by July 15. The foreign office informed the U. S. embassy all political questions affecting these countries must be taken up through the mission in Berlin.

Consulates will be permitted to remain. France is not included in this group.

It was noted that Denmark continued to have a different status, with both diplomatic missions and consulates remaining.

Poland's case, in turn, was more severe, for there even the consulates as well as the diplomatic missions were required to close.

AMERICANS READY TO FLEE HONGKONG

HONGKONG, July 1 (AP)—A gray-coated Canadian Pacific liner, carrying the vanguard of some 4500 British women and children being removed from this colony, nosed out of Hongkong harbor this afternoon.

Other outgoing ships also were planned.

Among their passengers was a sprinkling of Americans, although the majority preferred to remain until ordered definitely to leave.

The American liner President Coolidge remained here on order from Washington and Americans were prepared for the possible necessity of removing their women and children.

1000 FAMILIES ABOARD

The Canadian Pacific authorities source said, is a precaution against possible Japanese land and sea blockade of the colony to enforce demands for closing the Burma route to the embattled Chinese government.

The unclassified Canadian Pacific liner, bound for Manila with a naval escort, carried 1000 families of British military and naval personnel. She was expected to reach Manila July 3 and return immediately for further refugees.

U. S. WARSHIPS HERE

Meanwhile, 2001 boats bound for Hong Kong, the colony on the Chinese mainland, were crammed with Chinese leaving on advice—not compulsory—and at their own expense.

Hongkong banks had an unusually large number of withdrawals. To cover foodstuffs, the government banned exports of flour, soap, kerosene, and other necessities. It also prohibited export of motor vehicles.

Newspapers, French and Dutch consular authorities ordered their nationals a combined total of about 370 to prepare to leave.

Katsuo Okazaki, Japanese consul general, declined comment.

"I am going" to tell Japanese men, women and children in Hongkong to stay, as there is no cause for worry." He estimates there are about 700 Japanese here.

If you are a buyer of premium gasolines...

—if you are a motorist who wants the best—take 30 seconds to read these important facts:

- 1 In gasoline, more weight means more power. Every ten gallons of Jenney Aero weighs $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 5 pounds more than other leading gasolines, either regular or premium.
- 2 Five extra pounds will give you 50,000 more B.T.U.'s (power units) which you can feel in quicker get-away, more power on hills, greater mileage.
- 3 This concentration of power in Aero means that you use less to go a given distance—you get more miles per gallon.
- 4 Aero is Solvenized*—a process exclusive with Jenney in New England. Solvenized* chases carbon, dissolves varnish and gum, improves compression, still further increases mileage, gives you a cooler, cleaner engine.
- 5 Aero excels in anti-knock (octane) value.

These are Jenney Aero values you can measure.
They explain why Jenney can guarantee that Aero will give you more efficiency and satisfaction than any other gasoline in New England.

New Nazi Air Raids Blast British Isles

LONDON, July 1 (AP)—Nazi planes bombed England, Scotland and Wales today in a continuation of raids former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain termed "only the prelude" to a German attempt at invasion in full force that may begin "at any moment." This morning's attacks were met by intensive defensive activity, both from fighter planes and anti-aircraft batteries.

The German planes apparently struck their heaviest blows in northeast Scotland, where incendiary bombs in heavily-populated areas started a number of fires. But a communique from the air ministry and ministry of home security announced "no serious damage or casualties" from any of the bombings, with injury to only one person reported.

A German bomber was reported shot down by anti-aircraft guns in northeast England at noon today. A second German plane was reported brought down shortly afterward.

An Air Ministry communique said: "Aircraft of the fighter command intercepted an enemy seaplane off the northeast coast this morning and shot it down into the sea. The crew were rescued."

One of the Nazi raiders crashed into the sea off the northeast English coast. The crew of four was brought ashore, where one wounded man was taken to a hospital and the other three were arrested.

Two persons were reported killed and eight injured in German raids Saturday night.

Though today's bombings were the tenth by Nazi warplanes in the last 12 days, both from Chamberlain and from British observers came new tributes to the power and effectiveness of the Royal Air Force.

Defense Zone Set by Britain

LONDON, July 1 (INS)—A defense zone from 5 to 25 miles deep was created today along the entire English east coast and to a designated point on the south coast.

Within this zone artillery, tanks, barbed wire and other defenses capable of halting an invader will be concentrated.

Already many thousands of troops have been concentrated in this region. Reinforcements are steadily pouring into the zone, it was stated.

10,000 To Attend Moose Convention

DES MOINES, Ia., July 1 (AP)—Members of the Local Order of Moose and their families from all part of the United States and Canada were gathered here to open their international convention. The supreme secretary, Malcolm B. Giles, said that advance registration indicated that 10,000 persons would arrive before the convention closes July 4.

HITLER MAKES TOUR OF MAGINOT LINE

BERLIN, July 1 (AP)—While French and German delegates were conferring on fulfillment of the armistice terms, Adolf Hitler made a tour of Maginot line defenses, whose collapse in the face of "new German weapons" was in part responsible for France's suing for a cessation of hostilities.

The French-German commission held its first meeting at Wiesbaden, famed watering place on the Rhine.

With fighting meanwhile restricted to the air, the Nazi command reported successful attacks on Britain and claimed ineffectiveness of British raids on Germany.

BARBONS BOMBED
Cardiff and Bristol, with their harbor works and fuel storage tanks, and Lincoln, Nottingham and York, with their airfields, were hemmed as objectives effectively bombed Saturday night by German fliers.

Reporting loss of only one Nazi plane to four British aircraft brought down by ground batteries, the high command said the British continued their raids on non-military targets.

A Cologne radio broadcast, listing 16 dead and 11 wounded as a result of a British raid at Wahn, 10 miles southeast of Cologne, on Friday night, said English fliers who appeared over northwestern Germany Saturday night dropped their bombs with negligible results.

NAZI CRIMINAL LAW

From Paris came word that the German military government in the former French capital had ordered Nazi criminal law put into operation.

Under this code, the death penalty can be prescribed by military tribunals or special courts for possession of broadcasting apparatus or weapons.

Listening to non-German broadcasts, participation in anti-German demonstrations and circulation of anti-German news and pamphlets also were barred in a decree issued by the official German journal for the department of Seine, Sen et Oise and Seine et Marne.

Danube if they desire was viewed in diplomatic circles as a serious threat to German interests.

Whether Russian-Rumanian fighting still was going on could not be determined. The best available information was that the Red occupation was proceeding in a more orderly fashion.

The Russians, however, were reported still showing haste. Refugees said Russian state police agents and Soviet shock troops were dropped by parachute in many towns and villages.

Rumanian officials expressed belief this was to round up aristocrats and large landowners and prevent removal of gold and other valuables from the occupied area.

At Budapest it was reported a Hungarian army corps was mobilized in the wake of "incidents" between Rumanian and Hungarian troops. Official sources said there had been an exchange of fire between border guards.—Editor's Note.

THOUSANDS ARRESTED

As the Russian advance continued, police sought to prevent rioting.

Thousands of arrests were made in Bucharest and other cities under a new regulation prohibiting citizens from congregating in groups of four or more or assembling in any number of cafes and other public places.

Rumanian officials returning from the occupied territories declared Russian military trials were condemning Rumanians in "wholesale batches."

They reported refugees had been shot while attempting to sneak through Russian lines into old Rumania.

Reports were brought in that the Russians were setting up military governments in the most important centers and that, in other places, they were turning over management to hastily organized Soviets.

Current, pro-German Bucharest newspaper, charged editorially that Russia was planning destruction of Rumanian oil fields from which Germany otherwise would receive gasoline.

The Rumanian general staff described as "local incidents" the clashes between Rumanian and Russian troops yesterday, but usually reliable sources said the fighting was on a much larger scale than officially admitted.

HOLD RUMANIAN GENERAL

Reports in military circles said the fighting broke out when Red army units moving into Bucovina crossed the Prut river at several places—penetrating 15 miles to Doroboi.

Retreating Rumanian troops were said to have turned to fight, driving the Russians back across the river with considerable losses.

With the aid of reinforcements, however, the Soviet troops were reported to have crossed the Prut again, capturing a Rumanian general among other prisoners.

Reports from regions already occupied by the Russians told of street fighting in many places among Communist and anti-Communist elements. Penitentiary inmates were said to have been freed in two cities by fleeing jailers.

DNE, official German news agency, reported that several hundred persons were killed yesterday when the Rumanian army put down armed Jewish uprisings in Galati. The German radio estimated the dead at 600. Galati is about 10 miles west of Iasi, outside the territory ceded to Russia.—Editor's Note.

That Rumanian authorities were fearful of further Soviet encroachments was indicated by the nature and extent of precautionary measures.

MINE BLACK SEA PORTS

It was announced that the Black sea ports of Constanta and Sulina had been mined and there was talk of removing the government from Bucharest to some point in the Carpathians if necessary.

The Ministry of the Interior issued a communique warning the population not to believe "fantastic stories" that any parts of Rumania in addition to Bessarabia and Bucovina would be evacuated.

The warning was interpreted as an indication the government intended to resist any further territorial encroachments—not only by Russia but also by Hungary and Bulgaria, which are anxious to gain lost territories of Transylvania and southern Dobruja respectively.

At the same time the government issued regulations closing all cafes at 11 p. m. and forbidding political discussions in public. Persons speaking against the army or public safety will be sent to concentration camps.

A Rumanian delegation departed, meanwhile, by steamer from Constanta to meet Russian representatives Tuesday in Odessa, where the final demarcation line of the ceded territories will be decided.

Hungarians Mobilize On Rumanian Frontier

BUDAPEST, July 1 (AP)—The mobilization of a Hungarian army corps on the Rumanian frontier was reported today in official quarters which said this followed "incidents" between Rumanian and Hungarian troops.

At noon today police visited all restaurants, cafes and hotels in Budapest forbidding the sale of any alcoholic beverage for four days.

An official interpretation of this was not immediately forthcoming. But it was pointed out that such procedure is customarily one of the first steps preceding general mobilization.

Official sources said Rumanian border guards fired on Hungarian guards yesterday at Vichybad. When the Hungarians answered their fire, they said, the Rumanians retreated.

One house on Rumanian soil was said to have been burned to the ground.

Official quarters also said three inhabitants of Fekete-Gyarbat, south of Ant, on Hungarian territory were shot at by Rumanian troops.

One unverified report said that Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, had returned to the capital from his summer residence at Kenderes.

The Hungarian government announced several days ago it had decided to "make control more severe all along the Rumanian border and to order frontier chasseurs troops to advance" because of the unsettled situation in Rumania.

Large Rumanian forces long have been established in Transylvania, a rich agricultural province which was part of Austria-Hungary before the World War.

Official sources here previously have said that Hungary's border troops would march into Transylvania with full support of the Rome-Berlin axis if Soviet Russia overstepped the Rumanian areas ceded to her.

U. S. Plans Big Refugee Fund

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—A campaign to raise $5,000,000 to provide asylum in this country for European refugee children will be started July 4 by the Allied Relief Fund.

Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the organization which was formed to co-ordinate efforts of all U. S. war relief agencies, said contributions would be turned over to the United States committee for the care of European children, of which Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is honorary chairman.

Aldrich added that all children brought into this country would "come in under quotas" and that bond would be posted in each case to assure that the child does not become a public ward.

Under present plans about 20,000 child refugees will be cared for in this country.

U. S. Fleet Ends Secret Cruise

HONOLULU, July 1 (AP)—Major units of the United States fleet, whose unannounced departure one week ago took Hawaii by surprise, swung at anchor again in Lahaina roads today, their absence explained by Admiral James O. Richardson as merely a routine training exercise.

Nevertheless, the fleets sudden return yesterday set off a train of speculation in connection with the war, word events, as did its departure under sealed orders last Monday.

"This was a routine training exercise simulating a wartime sailing without prior notification," said the fleet commander-in-chief. "Such exercises have taken place in the past and are an essential part of fleet training."

2 Put to Flight In Armory Break

An attempted break at the Chelsea Armory of the Massachusetts National Guard was foiled today when a watchman drove away two prowlers who had smashed a window with an iron bar.

Private Harold O. Nease, hearing the sound of breaking glass, discovered the pair; but they escaped Chelsea police and National Guard soldiers were notified.

Coast Guard to Aid Of Boston Trawler

The Coast Guard cutter Argonquin was ordered today to assist the Boston trawler, Nasty Dame, disabled off Portland, Me., with engine trouble.

Meanwhile, the patrol boat Arto attempted to free the fishing dory Nelly from a reef off Gay Head, Martha's Vineyard, where the craft ran aground early Sunday.

UNFIRED GUN SNARLS GIRL'S DEATH PROBE

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—Strange circumstances attending the death of 18-year-old Dorothy Ebersole, found in the bathroom of her Bronx apartment with a bullet through her head, led police today to consider the possibility of murder.

Her fully-clothed body was discovered after a trickle of blood through the bathroom floor was reported by the tenants below.

The bathroom door was locked from the inside, police said they were told. No weapon was found there, but a .22-caliber revolver lay in an arcreway below the third-floor bathroom window.

Patrolmen under Sergt. Robert McAllister, the first to arrive on the scene, reported that the gun was fully loaded and had not been fired recently.

FIND SECOND GUN

Their first theory had been that Miss Ebersole had fired a bullet into her temple and somehow had managed to toss the gun out the window.

A short time later, Assistant District Attorney Arthur Carson and Assistant Medical Examiner Louis Lefkowitz, who took over the investigation, found a .32-caliber slug on the bathroom floor, which apparently had been overlooked in the first inspection.

Detective said Miss Ebersole, with the mother, had been entertaining Edward McDougall of Astoria, Queens; Nicholas Agalitis, of the Bronx; and Miss Mary Reilly, Manhattan, during the evening.

With the mother, had been entertaining Edward McDougall of Astoria, Queens; Nicholas Agalitis, of the Bronx; and Miss Mary Reilly, Manhattan, during the evening.

NO SHOT HEARD

Miss Ebersole excused herself, they said, and apparently went to the bathroom. All of those in the apartment said they had not heard a shot.

When Miss Anna Sloan, building superintendent, advised them of the blood in the apartment below, Mrs. Ebersole and Mrs. Sloan broke down the bathroom door and found the girl dead, police said.

The girls 16-year-old brother, Paul, was sentenced to an indefinite period last May 11 on a manslaughter charge which accused him of shooting to death another youth during an argument.

months after the European war started, that the French began training aircraft aviation crews for the highly specialized types of aerial warfare.

In tanks, the German numerical superiority was less marked, although modern equipment and concentration of attack made the effect almost the same.

The Germans, apparently, used 12 panzer (armored) divisions in the battle of France, each numbering at least 500 tanks. The most optimistic estimate of the French tanks was about 2500, and many of these were far from modern.

In Gen. Corap's Ninth Army, which was along the Meuse in the Germans' first main break-through, I saw 1918-vintage tanks in action. The lack of communication and transport equipment in Corap's army was so pronounced that a member of his general staff told me two days before it was captured by the Nazis that there was only the flimsiest of liaison between army headquarters and the general staff.

USED CAPTIVE TANKS

While the Germans concentrated their tank divisions against narrow sectors to gain maximum effect, the French dispersed theirs all along the front, allotting two or three companies of four tanks each to strategically located mechanized divisions.

The French armored division assigned to the highly important Reeth bridgehead across the Aisne near the Magnot line, for example, was compelled to relinquish captured German tanks to hold its positions as long as it did.

Many French divisions were incompletely equipped with anti-tank defenses. The general command, along a division holding a bend in the Chiers river, just east of Reeth, told me proudly two days before the Germans began their general offensive along the Somme-Aisne line, that "all my division has been completely installed except my anti-tank company."

OUTNUMBERED 5 TO 1

The Allied armies' lack of manpower meant that the Somme-Aisne lines had to be lightly held. In some sectors German troops outnumbered the French as much as 5 to 1.

This was especially true in the Meuse-Argonne sector, where the Germans threw in most of their available fresh divisions on the third day of attack to split off the Magnot line.

The Allied lack of manpower was due, in part, to the difference between 10 British divisions fighting in France in 1940 as against 35 in the critical phase of the last war; also to Italy's entry into the war on Germany's side.

The latter deficiency had a double effect, for the French not only were unable to count on Italian divisions to immobilize an equal number of German divisions; they themselves had to hold a full army at the Alpine front.

FRENCH SPIRIT LACKING

The basic reason for the lack of manpower, however, must be sought in the difference in population: France 40,000,000, Germany 80,000,000.

French lack of determination to fight completely the picture of collapse in only one month of "real" warfare.

Marshal Petain himself painted the best picture of this fatal flaw when he said Frenchmen in 1939 "were bearing the brunt of the fighting, with men of 48 in the front line while Britain had not yet mobilized her men of 28."

Equally important was the feeling among Frenchmen that they were bearing the brunt of the fighting, with men of 48 in the front line while Britain had not yet mobilized her men of 28.

That is no reflection on the bravery of the French soldier. When the time came he took terrific punishment and died in his tracks. The long months of waiting, coupled with lack of men and equipment, however, had its effect on the quality of French resistance. All along, the French soldier much rather would have been back at home, tilling his field or working in a factory.

Strike Delayed By Sea Cooks

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1 (AP)—According to a federal request, the marine cooks and stewards today delayed for 72 hours a strike which threatened to paralyze West Coast offshore and intercoastal shipping for the third time since 1934.

Less than an hour before the deadline last midnight, the union asked to delay the walkout and issued a statement denouncing the attitude of the Pacific American Shipowners Association, against which the walkout was planned.

Approximately 175 West Coast ships would have been affected by the strike, since picket lines set up by the cooks and stewards were expected to bar members of other unions in the highly organized maritime industry.

Priest Blames France's Sins

Race suicide of French people for 100 years was in part responsible for their defeat by Germany it was declared by Rev. Charles D. McInnis at services in St. Clement's Church, Back Bay.

"France for more than 100 years has been openly, admittedly, violating one of the basic laws that pertain to family life," Father McInnis said.

"Its population has remained static and the country that conquered it—it has sinned, but did not commit that sin—increased its population in something that approximated the natural order. The wages of sin caught up with France."

CLAUDETTE TOPS ACTRESSES IN 1939 FILMLAND EARNINGS

WASHINGTON, June 30 (INS)—Louis B. Mayer, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executive, with compensation of $688,369, topped a list of 250 persons who paid income taxes on earnings of $75,000 or more in 1939, released by the Treasury today.

In an earlier list of high money earners issued by the Treasury last January, movie stars generally paced the field. U. S. Fleet Ends Secret Cruise

HONOLULU, July 1 (AP)—Major units of the United States fleet, whose unannounced departure one week ago took Hawaii by surprise, swung at anchor again in Lahaina roads today, their absence explained by Admiral James O. Richardson as merely "a routine training exercise."

Nevertheless, the fleet's sudden return yesterday set off a train of speculation in connection with shifting world events, as did its departure under sealed orders last Monday.

"This was a routine training exercise simulating a wartime sailing without prior notification," said the fleet commander-in-chief. "Such exercises have taken place in the past and are an essential part of fleet training."

2 Put to Flight In Armory Break

An attempted break at the Chelsea Armory of the Massachusetts National Guard was foiled today when a watchman drove away two prowlers who had smashed a window with an iron bar.

Private Harold O'Regan, hearing the sound of breaking glass, discovered the pair, but they escaped. Chelsea police and National Guard officials were notified.

Little, Back-of-the-Head Hats Finding Favor Now

By ANNICE BRINK

HAVE YOU noticed the further and exquisite blossoming of the little hats, the back-of-the-head hats with flowers loaded forward and front, that's followed our delighted tell-tale on their imminence?

With shady hats, big ripple-brim things, so popular now, these new flowery bonnets are on their way to midsummer blooming . . . as different from the round flower crowns and bunches of gardenias you saw all spring as you could possibly imagine.

First, there will be more of interest than just a bunch of flowers hung on by a ribbon. The hat itself will be important . . . perhaps a fine straw, cut close to the head and trimmed with ribbon streamers. Or perhaps it will be felt, and shaped squarishly, like a Civil War Yankee soldier's cap top, but worn much farther back.

There may be only one or two large, luxuriant blossoms. And in that case you'll have to have a pompadour, or look absurdly unfinished above the eyebrows.

If there are many flowers, they'll tumble forward, and even drop a petal or two before your eyes. And this seems to be the newest look of all. Have you seen the tricks done with veils? Chiefly there is the one of having the veil start under the brim of the hat. And it doesn't matter whether the hat is big or small, it's just as clever and becoming. With a big hat, the veil may have circular, feasting ends and come nearly to the shoulders. With a small hat, the veil will be close, and neat, and end just below the chin, to be tied lightly at the back of the head.

Love and Marriage

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I have broken up my home, as it became a choice between my husband, who proved to be a most brutal type of stepfather, and my 13-year-old son. My boy is delicate, sensitive, overgrown for his age, and very bright mentally. His stepfather has been jealous of him ever since our marriage, and in the face of my protests has whipped him unmercifully, often for things of which the boy was not guilty.

I have made my choice. My son's life is not going to be ruined on account of a jealous, brutal stepfather. Fortunately, I'm a good stenographer and typist, and will have little trouble I think in getting a job. The question is, where can I keep my son while I am working? He is a Boy Scout.

ELISHA HANSON, general counsel of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, told the Advertising Federation of America in Chicago last week that advertising is "an essential of freedom."

It is literally and completely true.

As Mr. Hanson pointed out, the press serves the public by gathering and disseminating information.

Its three principal functions are to tell the news; to interpret the news, through editorial comment; and to permit advertisers to tell, in space for which they pay, about goods, the services or ideas they offer for public consumption.

It is true, as Mr. Hanson said, that ALL these kinds of information are essential to the welfare of the American people.

It is also true, as he declared, that—

"We are facing a deliberate attempt by government to restrict one of these vital forces of information—that which is conveyed through advertising."

"The effort to regulate, control, censor and restrict advertising is but one phase of the seemingly prevalent philosophy that an all-wise and benevolent government should regulate all human activity."

The idea that government should regulate everybody and everything has indeed grown more and more prevalent in recent years as crackpotism has gained a constantly increasing hold on government.

But crackpots, with their insatiable longing to manage, are not the only or the worst enemies of advertising.

It has enemies, some in positions of power in Washington, who apparently want to DESTROY advertising in the hopes of destroying, along with it, our American free press, which maintains itself largely with revenue from advertising.

And of course if our free press were destroyed, FREEDOM ITSELF would vanish with it.

Freedom CANNOT live without a FREE PRESS.

A people who would choose their own course must be able to see the way.

They "see" through a press that is free and able to tell them ALL the facts.

Deprive the press of the power to tell them the facts and they are blindfolded.

Attacks on advertising, since they would hamper and restrict the press in its business of giving the people the facts, amount to attempts to BLIND THE PEOPLE.

There could be only ONE object in wanting to blind the people, and that would be to rob them of their liberty.

Mr. Hanson was entirely right, therefore, when he said:

"If we in America are to continue to have economic freedom, or freedom itself, we must have the right freely to advertise our goods, our services and our ideas without interference by government."

GLASGOW GIRLS are angry at Lord Provost Dolan, says an amusing cable from Scotland.

The honorable gentleman made the mistake of observing that "women are not such good walkers as men because of their domineering practice of wearing high heels."

Furthermore, he added insult to injury by explaining:

"The high-heeled shoe causes more ill-health and social discord than any other fashion. If women have not the common sense to stop wearing high heels, then high heels should be made illegal."

It would interest the Lord Provost to know that the type of shoe generally worn by women nowadays was originated by men.

Long before women thought of wearing high heels, kings, dukes and members of the British and French courts had adopted them.

Nor can we entirely agree that they injure health. The average woman outlives her husband and brother by at least four years.

And she generally does it on high heels!

ALL OUR CITIES could profit by the good example of Naples, Ind., which, according to the International News Service, is conducting a vigorous campaign to prevent the deaths of children on its highways.

The Summer months are always particularly dangerous ones for boys and girls enjoying a vacation from school.

Last year more than 2600 of them died under the wheels of automobiles in the United States.

In addition, 176,690 others were injured, many seriously for life.

Parents and older brothers and sisters can do much to prevent a repetition of this needless suffering by warning the youngsters to stay out of streets and by inducing them to play in parks or vacant lots.

It may require constant effort and persistent vigilance.

But if it prevents the death of only one child, it will be money well spent.

IN QUEBEC, Canada, everybody over 70 who needs it gets a pension of a dollar a day . . . It is a sad but true state of affairs that co-eds in large universities are the sloppiest dressers of America's feminine youth . . . Three days ago blueberries in our neighborhood were 28 cents a box. Today they were 45 cents a box. Tonight we had raspberries . . . Add down our way when a domestic worker gets a job she pays the employment agency 10 per cent of a month's salary, and her employer pays the agency 10 per cent . . . I know a fellow who owns an employment agency. He has three automobiles, a station wagon, an 18-room house and a swimming pool . . . Mme. Sylva, Hollywood female figure expert, who once wrote a book "The Things the Shape Becomes," says women who swim too much, play tennis and ride bicycles will bulge in the wrong places. No doubt Mme. Sylva knows. But women who do not exercise and "starve themselves in the interests of "Boyish Forms" or whatever they call them are usually pretty crabbled. They make very poor matrimonial partners.

"IF SIAMESE TWINS," like the Hilton Sisters, boarded a New York Central train in New York bound for Albany," writes a client, "and one had a ticket and the other had none, and you were the conductor, what would you do?" I would let them both ride and advise the New York Central to include a special ticket for HYDE PARK, July 1—And so Mr. Wendell Wilkie is nominated for President on the Republican ticket, and has as his running mate, Senator McNary.

I have always liked the Senator. He is an attractive person. Therefore, from all accounts, we have two people with charm running for office in this presidential election.

I do not know Mr. Wilkie. But the headline in one of the metropolitan papers Saturday said: "Wilkie Aims at Unity, Defense and Recovery." I'm discouraged. In heaven's name, will anyone aim at anything else?

SOMETIMES I wonder if we shall ever grow up in our politics and say definite things which mean something, or whether we shall always go on using generalities to which everyone can subscribe, and which mean very little.

What is important, is how we expect to achieve the above objectives. That is the only thing that matters to the people of the country and, apparently, we are going to be very vague about these methods.

We can, however, judge parties and people by their records, and Mr. Wilkie's record is something all of us should study in the next few weeks.

It is said to find Rumania and Russia now fighting each other. I see, according to the papers, that King Carol is reported to have called upon Mr. Hitler to protect him, but it seems to me that we read not so long ago about a pact between Germany and Russia. That would seem to preclude any action which would be of real help to Rumania.

What a strange world that anyone, even in dire trouble, should seize on such a straw and hope for assistance!

WE HAD a very pleasant party here on Friday night in honor of a combination of birthdays. A program of singing, music and dancing was provided for us by some young people who have been studying on an NYA program in New York City.

Three of them have jobs in summer hotels to provide entertainment this summer, one of them playing with the NYA symphony orchestra in New York City. They came up here on their own time and they gave us such a pleasant evening, that I only hope they enjoyed themselves also.

Saturday, our son Jimmy was here for a few hours and we sat in the sun and chatted before he had to leave to go to work. My niece and nephew, who were staying here, have gone back to Maine, and the house seems very quiet robbed of so much young life.

Mrs. George Huntington, who, staying with me, Miss Thimp and I motored down to Flat Saturday evening to dine with Henry Morgenstau, Jr.

The weather has continued to be as uncertain as possible. I never know whether a thunderstorm is around the corner.

I have had very little exercise for I find myself constantly coming up on work when I have a day here. This week, however, hope to take fewer trips to city.

VANDERBILT PROVES PHILOSOPHIC

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, July 1—After the 6:30 recess was called, at the Republican convention last Thursday, Gov. Ranssen of Minnesota brushed by a group of us downstairs and cornered Alf Landon. He then took Landon aside, into an open freight-elevator, and there bartered for Kansas' vote in behalf of Willkie. . . Gov. Vanderbilt, of Rhode Island, passed by—and noticed the youthful Ranssen, the Convention's keynote man is too young to be a candidate himself, trading with the man who once was the Republican nominee. . . "In politics," said Vanderbilt, "the Past and the Future determine the Present."

SOCIAL NOTES: Mrs. J. P. McEvoy visited the Vandenberg headquarters, to chat with Vandenberg's daughter, Mrs. E. J. Pfeiffer. . . A wandering delegate entered the room and looked around. The candidate's daughter extended her hand and introduced herself: "I'm Miss Vandenberg. Can I do anything for you?" . . . "You sure can, honey," the delegate beamed. "I'm lonely. What're you doing for dinner tonight?"

MUSIC DEPT: Jack Robbins, the music publisher, tickled his office, preparing for the expected visit of Jimmy Roosevelt, who was coming to discuss his new movie enterprise. During a last minute inspection of the office, Robbins spied John LaTouche, one of the authors of "Ballad for Americans." . . "Stick around and meet Jimmy Roosevelt," the publisher invited. . . "Sorry," LaTouche explained, "but I have a date with Vernon Duke, to work on a new composition." . . Robbins looked, with disgust, at LaTouche, and said: "Stop being a genius and start being social."

SPORTS DEPT: Walter Johnson, the veteran baseball star, visited the CBS headquarters at the Convention. Louis Ruppel, CBS's publicity director, greeted him: "Hello, Walter. I hear you're running for office?" . . . Johnson nodded. . . "On the Republican ticket?" asked Ruppel. Johnson nodded. . . "For Congress?" Ruppel continued. Johnson nodded. . . "Think you can win?" was the next question. Johnson shrugged. . . "If that's all the talking you'll ever do in Congress," Ruppel complimented, "we're all for you."

FASHIONS DEPT: Jed Harris, as is his custom, had few clothes on when one of his friends visited him in Hollywood. . . "That's a terrible way to go around," Jed was cautioned. . . "Well, I wasn't expecting anybody," the producer answered. . . "But why are you wearing that black tie?" Jed was asked. . . "Oh, that," he explained, "that's in case anyone dropped in." . . Gene Snyder, fiancé of Dixie Dunbar, flew to Detroit to doctor the dances for the Al Jolson show.

MRS. E. J. PFEIFFER

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: Hero of the jitter-bugs until he deprecated the quality of their collective I. Q. rating, Artie Shaw will bid for popular favor again tonight after a year's retirement. . . The young musician's emergence from silence will take place in collaboration with Gracie Allen and George Burns. . . Two nights ago, Miss Allen disavowed her comical campaign, "Gracie Allen for President." . . In a prepared speech of a very serious vein, the comedienne negotiated an awkward moment in her career quite acceptably.

YET A LISTENER WAS entitled to wonder why the regular Burns and Allen program, a weekly event, was not chosen as the proper place for Gracie's renunciation of her "mock candidacy." . . In Maestro Shaw's debut as the musical accompaniment to the Burns and Allen comedy probably lies the answer. . . Artie was never a lad to take himself or his career lightly. . . If Miss Allen had to deliver what in effect was an apology for a stunt whose good taste was impeccable from the outset, the chances are, according to one school of thought, that Mr. Shaw was determined that the apology would not strike a discord at the moment of his return to the air.

THE CLASSICAL MUSICAL world was agog at the Shaw return to the airwaves today. . . In his tremendous surge to the kingship of "hot" music, Artie's great talent was always underestimated (except by musicians). . . These same musicians believed the young leader when he announced that he would form a unit dominated by "strings." . . Many others didn't. . . The Shaw organization of 22 pieces will be found to have the following instrumentation: 6 violins, 2 violas, 1 cello, 4 saxophones, 3 trumpets, horn, string bass, guitar, piano and drums.

WHEN HE QUIT—AT HIS PEAK—Shaw was being imitated more widely than even Guy Lombardo. . . Critics of the awing type expect the same thing to happen again. . . But Artie has placed himself partly out of reach of his echoes. . . The ambitious semi-pros who are ready to bud as full-fledged musicians these days have done their practicing on horns of various sorts, rather than on the strings.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Now that the Red Sox have won a double-header, the time seems opportune to deplore the fact that a grand guy like Joe Cronin must be the victim of certain boring-within tactics that must be keeping him sleepless. . . And that intriguing report (by Dan Parker) that Bill Terry is interested in buying the Bees would bring to Boston the most logical successor to the famous George Preston Marshall that comes to mind. . . But William of the Giants, being a more cautious if less inspired business-man than Mr. Marshall, would probably appease the galleries and the press before the money passed.

THE TURNSTILES at Wonderland Park have proved popular with the public, and the sole difficulty has been minor. . . Left-handed fans drop their quarters in one turnstile, and then try to enter the one at the right. (Wonderland and the new Raynham Park track both will

Laurence Olivier

HOLLYWOOD, July 1—Good day! I am happy to be seated at the old typewriter again even though I did have the best holiday of my life. Try it sometime—the Lullaby or Monterey, Royal Hawaiian and Waikiki Beach. It's great to make you forget all your troubles, both fanned and real. Chatted with David Selznick to check the report that he was asking $150,000 for Vivien Leigh to star in "The Constant Nymph" for Warners—and thereby hangs a story.

It was Alex Korda, it appears, who mentioned that modest sum. Alex owns part of Scarlett's contract. Getting that kind of money in these war times is out of the question so Alex will co-star Vivien and Laurence Olivier in "Cyrano De Bergerac." Even though their show, "Romeo and Juliet," cannot be called a world beater, and the critics were a little harsh, Vivien and Laurence are still the screen's No. 1 lovers and one good picture will make their Shakespearean interlude a forgotten passage. Besides, they can both really act.

FAY WRAY

himselves. I'm taking Ruth Hussey here and there. Met them at luncheon at the Brown Derby, was that Mrs. Frank Borge dining with Jeffrey Gull? Folks said so.

FAY WRAY and Cliff Lewis are a newsome—they were dining at the Barclay Kitchen; Elsa Maxwell telephoned Mrs. Wendell Willkie, an old friend, to say that she is taking the soap box for the new candidate for President. Elsa entertained at dinner in honor of Cole Porter who, I am happy to say, is now able to walk without his crutches. Louis Bromfield, now in town, was another guest. I like Bromfield's book, "Bombay Nights" for vacation reading.

MARY ASTOR fainted on the "Brigham Young" set after she had to walk through a field of crickets six inches deep. Seems she has a phobia about bugs; the Bernice Williams (she was Kay Mulvey and is a successful magazine writer) have dated the stork in November. Bernice is with Bob Taplinger in Warner's prize department; Mickey Rooney gave way to song at the Coconut Grove and favored with one of his original compositions, "I'm Not Afraid of the Moon"; Brenda Marshall has had sketches made of every one of the characters William Holden has played in the movies.

TWO-MINUTE STORY

THE LIFEBOAT was a microscopic speck in the immensity of the hot, glassy sea. The sun blazed down. Its molten stream poured vertically upon the lifeboat.

Joe Morgan rested on the oars. He was exhausted.

"Joe," said his wife.

"What is it, honey?"

The woman stared at him, trying to fight down the hysteria that engulfed her. "Do you think they'll find us, Joe?"

"Sure, We got off an SOS before the yacht went down. Some ship has our position now. They'll cruise this area until they pick us up."

"But supposing they miss us?" This time Gloria could not keep the panic out of her voice.

"Don't worry, dear. We'll sight the rescue ship any minute now."

BUT JOE was not so confident as he seemed. Again and again he scanned the empty horizon. The lifeboat drifted sluggishly beneath the flaming sun.

"Look, Joe," said Gloria. "Just in case I'm well, the end—I want to say that I've made you such a bad wife."

"I talk like that."

"I must. I haven't treated you fairly at all. There have been other men, you know that. I've been nothing but a cheap little flirt."

"But if we are saved I swear it will be different. I'll make up for everything. I won't look at another man. You must believe me, dear."

"I do, Gloria."

She leaned forward to kiss him and as she did her eyes widened with joyous surprise.

"Look, Joe. On the horizon. Smoke." It's the ship, darling. We're saved."

THE CAPTAIN of the rescue ship was a handsome, sun-burned young man. On the third night of the homeward voyage Joe found Gloria in his arms. For a second, Joe stared at them.

Well, he thought, I can take it or leave it. That's the way she is and that's the way she always will be. He sighed.

"I'm a fool," he said to himself. "But I just can't stop loving her."

He went down to the bar and had a drink.

LISTEN, WORLD! By Elsie Robinson

SHE THINKS we should "limit our expenditures and dispense with luxuries, particularly public amusements, for the limit of the European war." And will I not "write an article urging loyal Americans" to follow her suggestions? Yes, Lady, I will not!

WHAT'S MORE, I THINK THAT ANY AMERICAN WHO DOES FOLLOW YOUR SUGGESTION IS EITHER SO DUMB HE NEEDS A GUARDIAN OR SO DISLOYAL HE DESERVES A FIRING SQUAD.

NO POLICY could possibly please Herr Hitler as well or serve his vicious ends as completely, as this program of stagnation. No super-tank, no fleet of bombers, could damage America and the Allies as tragically as such inaction. The one thing above all others which Civilization needs in this desperate pass is—TO KEEP THE HOME FIRES BURNING! And there's just one way to do that—BY STAYING NORMAL!

The German menace represents all that is diseased and deadly in the human mind. We do not need to be in France or England to be imperilled by the threat of Hitler and his Nazi Hoodlums.

We carry the threat of that peril in our own spirits. We, too, can lose faith, unless we have lost faith.

LIFE WAS MEANT TO BE GOOD AND GLAD FOR ALL PEOPLE NOT MERELY THE POWERFUL AND PREDATORY FEW. LIFE WAS MEANT TO BE ACTIVE AND ABUNDANT. WE HAVE KNOWN SUCH LIFE IN THE PAST BECAUSE WE HAVE LIVED NORMALLY. KNOW IT NOW!

LET US KEEP OURSELVES FREE AND WHOLE, NOT BY RETREATING FROM LIFE, BUT BY GOING AHEAD—BY EXPRESSING EVERY HAPPY IMPULSE, EVERY HEALTHY DESIRE. . . BY BACKING UP EVERY VITAL INTEREST AND INDUSTRY IN OUR NATIONAL PROGRAM.

IF YOU WANT TO STAY ON THE MAP, KEEP AMERICA THERE!

NO, this isn't an advertisement. It's simply sound mental hygiene and 100 per cent patriotism.

The American who through selfish fear, restrains his own wholesome expansion and his country's commercial activities, is as surely a traitor as the one who betrays his nation's secrets.

PERHAPS you've sighed often as you've looked at the frequently changing and shifting jars on your dressing table, so many that it was as varied as a Futurama . . . and wished you might find a magical cosmetic . . . just ONE . . . which would do everything you could possibly want done for your complexion!

There has actually been such a cosmetic in existence, but for a long time it was available only to two exquisite women. One was a Queen, the other an Empress. Soon a few in the select circle surrounding each royal beauty had access to the cream created by a world famous dermatologist.

And then, through a cousin of one of them, the cream formula arrived in America. It's safely here now, being made in this country, and until a week or so ago, was available only in New York.

For all its rich black and gold tappings, the complete beauty treatment which consists of a special super-fatted soap, a selected sponge, and the cream . . . all you need for fostering a rare new beauty . . . is but $2.95!

Whether you're cleansing your skin before bedtime or before going out, you always use the same routine . . . cream first . . . sponge and soap next . . . cream again, as powder base or night treatment! But hear more about the cream . . . it's truly astounding . . . for not only is it a lubricant, but a thorough cleanser, a stimulating treatment, night cream, foundation, hand conditioner, promotes an even sun tan, prevents chapping!

And whether your skin is very dry or oily, it is the variation of the treatment which will take care of it completely! Astounding . . . but investigate for yourself!

If you'd like to learn all about this complete beauty ritual in ONE jar . . . phone Airline Gould, LIBERTY 4000, week-days, except Saturday, or write, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WHETHER you have the flower-fair and delicate skin of the Virginia Bruce type, or the rich cream-iness, dark and beautiful, of a Vivian Leigh . . . you'll find an ideal treatment in the sensational new ONE cream which does everything you could possibly imagine . . . including sun-tanning protection and lubrication! Airline Gould describes it today.

Easy to Play Good Tennis

Men love to play tennis with a girl who can give them a run for their money.

And a girl can play a good game, for in tennis strength doesn't count as much as knowing tennis strategy and the right way to play your strokes.

You've seen a player hit a ball on the fly, with an overhead smash send it sizzling over the net beyond his opponent's reach.

Dazzling as the play looks, the stroke itself is simple. Swing racket back as in serving and bring forward rapidly—hitting the ball when the racket is perpendicular as in diagram.

To get your opponent in a position in which he can't cover such attacking shots—that's where strategy comes in. In our 40-page booklet, How to Improve Your Tennis, Mercer Beasley, famous teacher, gives complete illustrated directions for playing tennis. Explains strokes, footwork. Has official rules, charts teaching tennis strategy, pointers on tournaments. For beginners and advanced players.

Let's Eat Outdoors

By MARTHA LEE

The al fresco dining season is with us again!

You probably have been refurbishing your garden, back porch, terrace or favorite spot under that apple tree for some time now, in anticipation of those warm days that demand eating outdoors. Well, the weather is here—so move out the furniture and set the table.

What to serve? Our first suggestion would be a meat loaf, because it cools off in the serving, it loses none of its glamour. As a matter of fact, you might even like to serve it cold—with hot vegetables. Scalloped potatoes, for instance, that can be kept hot in the casserole in which they are cooked. Covered dishes could also hold other vegetables like carrots or peas.

MEAT LOAF

1 lb. beef, ground
¼ lb. pork, ground
¼ lb. veal, ground
4 slices bread
¼ cup warm water
1 medium-sized onion, minced
1 tbsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
3 eggs
1 cup chili sauce

Mix meats thoroughly with bread in warm water, seasonings and eggs; pack into greased loaf pan, 5x4x3 inches, and cover with chili sauce. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) about 45 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

SCALLOPED POTATOES

6 medium-sized potatoes
Salt and pepper
Flour
2 tsp. butter
3 cups rich milk
Pare potatoes and slice thin; place ¼ in buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and dredge with flour. Repeat, add butter to hot milk and pour over potatoes. Bake, covered, in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) for ½ hour, then uncover and bake 10 to 15 minutes longer, or until a delicately browned crust has formed on top. If milk boils over, uncover and bake at lower temperature (350 deg. F.). One table spoon chopped onion may be added to milk for flavor. Makes 6 servings.

Iced coffee would be an appropriate accompaniment:

ICED COFFEE

Make the necessary amount of coffee double-strength (using 4 level tbsp. of coffee to each measuring cup of water). Pour hot coffee over cracked ice in tall glasses, or over block of ice in large pitcher. Serve with plain or vanilla cream and sugar.

And let's celebrate the first luncheon or dinner outdoors by serving a special dessert—light as the summer days and twice as welcome. It's a fruit roll, bursting with nuts and fruits, just the kind of cake you thought could be made only by your Aunt Mollie. Try it in your own kitchen and watch the interest in your culinary stock rise. Here's the recipe:

FRUIT ROLL

2 cups flour
¼ tsp. salt
4 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. shortening
¼ cup milk
2 cups apples, pared and sliced fine
¼ cup seeded raisins
¼ cup chopped nuts
1 tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
Sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in shortening and mix to a light dough with milk. Roll out ¼-inch thick. Brush with 1 tablespoon melted butter, and sprinkle with mixture of apples, raisins, nuts, sugar and cinnamon. Roll like a jelly roll. Moisten edges and pinch together. Place in a greased baking dish (one slightly larger than the roll is best), cover with a mixture of:
¼ cup molasses
1 cup water
2 tsp. butter
¼ tsp. nutmeg.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Bake frequently. Serve with cream.

"His wife should hear that!" said night operator No. 16 to her neighbor at the switchboard. It was 5 o'clock of a June morning, and telephone calls even in one of New York's biggest hotels were at a standstill.

"No wife," said Operator 21 with a yawn as she glanced at the morning headlines, "should hear what her husband says on a New York bingie. You want more front page shootings?"

"But he hasn't been married six months!" said the scandalized No. 16. She named a famous young screen hero, whose bride was almost equally celebrated. "The hardest-boiled Hollywood columnist said there was a real love match."

"So what goes on?" asked No. 21.

"His Nibs just got in five minutes ago—I've been ringing his suite every twenty minutes since 1 o'clock. Agent in Hollywood calling him, important. But he says, 'No calls now before noon, dear—just one number I want right away.'"

"The girl friend?"

No. 16 nodded. "Her name is Gracie. And what do you think he has to say to Gracie at 5 A. M.?" she gave a brutal imitation of a great screen lover. "Hello, sweetheart, are you all tucked in?"

"Well," the other girl giggled, "Gracie says she was."

"He did. Then he said he hoped I'd worn her out on their big way but, but anyhow they're geraniums."

"Geraniums," mused No. 21. "It does that stand for in Hollywood slang?"

"I wouldn't know," said No. 16. "He said she was a clown not to him get her a house to go to. Then he told her she was the grandest girl in the world, to sleep tight."

"Who's Gracie anyhow?" asked the other girl.

"Gracie Traxler. Lives at a little hotel on the West."

"Must be some Broadway."

"Seems like I've read that name somewhere—with some show may."

Well, that's Hollywood romance you," sighed No. 16. "I'll stick Flatbush."

"Up in his 25th floor room, a great young screen star was soft-whistling as he prepared to turn in. It was daylight, he was thinking, and he was in New York again going to bed, instead of in Hollywood getting up. The studio had worked him like a galley slave these past two years."

He had been in show business long enough to know you have to take the breaks when they come; make the most of the work when you can get it. But this was the first time, in his three years of movie-making, he had ever dared demand a week's Broadway holiday with no strings attached. He, as having it, he told himself, and was he happy!

Never had he even considered taking his bride on this Broadway bingie. She symbolized the brightest page of the shining new chap-

one day, "and you'll play the part you're stooping for. I know you start! He gets bored with any part after a season. It's worth working and waiting for."

IN THE AIR

The play was a hit, and as the season wore on, Gracie coached him privately for understudy rehearsals. She cured him of stock mannerisms and mid-westernisms; largely through her influence he got the leading role when the play took to the road.

Gracie remained his bulwark during all his Broadway career. Then, as she had always foreseen, came the Hollywood break. Even she explained briefly, after it was over. For Gracie to miss a performance was unheard of. He worried over her all spring, while he was building a new house and making the two most strenuous pictures of his career.

One night on location in the desert he awakened up in an icy sweat. What if something should happen to Gracie? Never before had he contemplated life without her. She meant everything to him; she was the past that had made the present possible. He loved her!

Then and there he resolved that as soon as this picture was made, he was going to New York and spend one glorious week with Gracie and the past. He had money now; and the one thing he wanted desperately to do was something handsome for her.

When he told her, today at lunch, that he was determined to shower Hollywood gold on her, she laughed lightly and said, "Elegant! I know just what I want."

"Anything, including sables," he promised.

"Too hot in June," she fanned herself. "What I want, my dear, is a window box of geraniums."

anisms. Gracie ignored all hints.

They went out on Long Island for supper, and talked of the old days until far into the night. "You're a wonderful boy," she told him on the way back, "never to have forgotten."

His arm was around her, and her head was close to his heart. "You're a wonderful girl," he returned, "though you're a clown not to let me get a house for your dawned old geraniums."

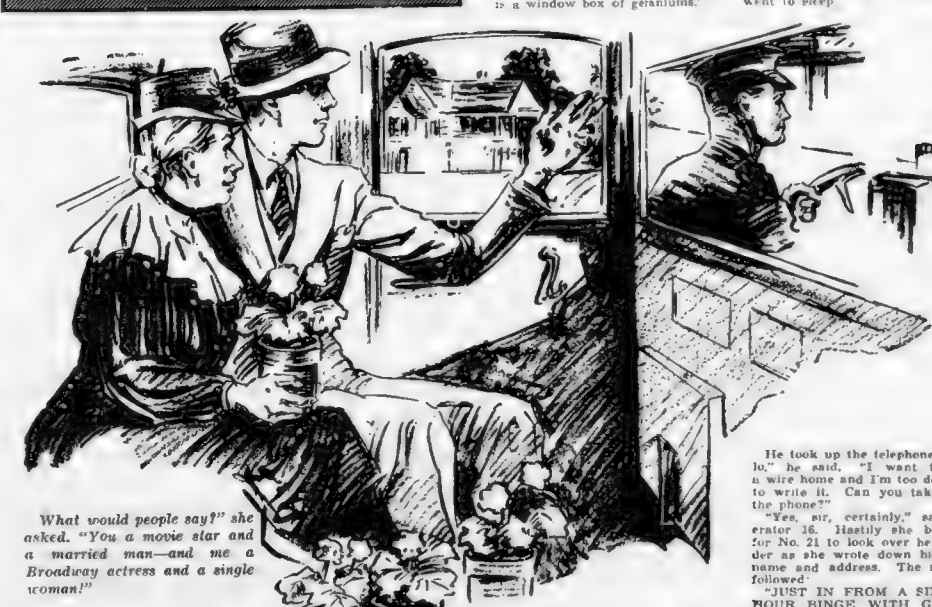

She looked at him with a shocked expression, and a roguish twinkle in her bright brown eyes. "What would people say?" she asked. "You a movie star and a married man—and me a Broadway actress and a single woman!"

No, there was nothing you could do about Gracie. God bless her, he thought, and the theaters too, that fostered her spirit of self-reliance!

He was in his pajamas now, but he had to get a wire off before he went to sleep.

Geraniums for Gracie

ter of his life, the chapter summarizing success and affluence. He could never ask her to share the past, that long dreary volume that featured struggle and hard work. Besides, she believed in living wholly in the present. Tonight he realized that he clung to the past largely because of Gracie.

He had first met Gracie when he came to Broadway, a stock company "juvenile lead" who survived half a dozen seasons of cheap little touring "reps." He was 24 and without a cent, but resolved to break the Broadway jinx if it meant taking an understudy job. That was exactly what he landed, at last.

The star he was assigned to cover was also author of the play. Gracie had a prominent role in the cast. She was the first person in the company who spoke to him.

"Keep on your toes," she said

Gracie had never dreamed how far he would go!

As soon as he clicked out there he had urged her to follow. There was so much out there, he told her, for an actress of her talent. Even if she got nothing, he thought, now he had ample money to support her.

But Gracie seemed always either to be in a Broadway job or insisted she had one "in the air." He wired her regularly, sent Christmas, Easter and birthday gifts. She wrote postcards to him if she saw one of his pictures and liked some special scene. She never wrote letters unless he gave a bad performance; then she gave him hell. Gracie kept him up to snuff—as no Hollywood director ever could!

The past winter, soon after his marriage, she had been out of her Broadway show for a month. Flu,

"Geraniums!" he gasped. "They're flowers, darling—or do they know there's anything less than orchids on your Gold Coast?"

"WONDERFUL GIRL"

She giggled and went on to explain: "Our show closed last week in Newark. I came back on the bus and passed a place where they had the biggest, brightest, reddest geraniums I ever saw. Just looking at them made me feel young and full of fight."

"Take me to Newark in a taxi, since you're so rich," she begged. "I'll know the place when I see it. Buy me some geraniums, angel, and I'll bless you ever."

"We'll get the geraniums," he said.

They made a long day of it. After he bought her the flowers they drove along country roads, where he pointed out houses that would look well surrounded by ger-

He took up the telephone. "Hello," he said. "I want to send a wire home and I'm too dog tired to write it. Can you take it on the phone?"

"Yes, sir, certainly," said Operator 16. Hastily she beckoned for No. 21 to look over her shoulder as she wrote down his wife's name and address. The message followed:

"JUST IN FROM A SIXTEEN HOUR BINGIE WITH GRACIE. BOUGHT HER GERANIUMS AND WEEP IN OUR BEER OVER GOOD OLD DAYS TOGETHER. DON'T BE JEALOUS. AFTER ALL SHE IS MY OLDEST GIRL FRIEND. SEVENTY-EIGHT HER NEXT BIRTHDAY. GOD BLESS HER. AND YOU."

"Geraniums!" gasped Operators 16 and 21 together.

THE END.

Line of Eye-Fillers In Mayfair's Revue

By SAM BERENSON

The culinary legend of magic-fingered Hugo has brought to his three-famed cypoid oases one of the most successful seasons ever enjoyed by a South Shore hostelry... the food here is of uniform excellence, while the reputation of the Hugo property is not only in of New England renown but has come to be as a beacon to many an out of state tourist... the debutante of the Hugo link is Cohasset harbor's brilliant new lighthouse, where the smart set gathers nightly to bask in the colorful sea-going atmosphere... and to dance to the gay rhythm of Guy Ormandy and his band.

Oodles of startling beauty, clever dancing, delightful singing and superb production are some of the highlights of the excellent presentation, "Parisian Revue," which will feature the opening of the Latin Quarter night club at Old Silver Beach, West Falmouth.

The Rialto throng was out in gala fashion to attend the debut of the Coconut Grove's new Melody Lounge... a grand opening

Marihuana Film Stays at Globe

"Reefer Madness" continues to draw crowds to the Globe. "Reefer Madness" presents in dramatically graphic manner the methods of marihuana—how in return for sensual pleasures it induces moral breakdown and mental weakening until assault, murder and even suicide seem the logical and pleasant things to do. The cast includes Dorothy Short, Kenneth Craig, Mary McLaren and Harry Harvey, Jr.

OLYMPIA'S BILL

"Lillian Russell" starring Alice Faye in the role of America's celebrated beauty and Edward Arnold as the glittering "Diamond Jim" Brady, and "Primrose Path," somber love story co-starring Ginger Rogers and Joel McCrea, will continue through Friday on the Washington St. Olympia screen.

DIANE SINCLAIR who plays a leading role in "Tomorrow's Children," current feature at the Gayety.

Timely Topic In Gayety Bill

"Tomorrow's Children," a film dealing with the controversial subject of sterilization, is currently unrolling on the Gayety Theater's screen.

Diane Sinclair, Crane Wilbur and a large supporting cast tell the story of "Tomorrow's Children," which despite its theme is essentially a romantic drama.

On the same bill is "Three Mile Limit," co-starring Jack Holt and Harry Carey.

For this week only, a short talk from the stage on the topic, "Crime Does Not Pay," will be a feature of each performance.

Musico Prizes At Paramount

Beginning Wednesday evening, and continuing every Wednesday night at 9:30, the highly popular Musico radio program will originate from the stage of the Paramount Theater only.

Patrons of the Paramount will participate in the easy and entertaining Musico contest with special cash prizes and other valuable awards will be distributed exclusively to Paramount patrons at each Wednesday evening program.

The entire company of the popular air show headed by Charles Keaton and his Musico Orchestra, Ken Ovensen and Lou Sargent will go on the air from the stage of the Paramount at exactly 9:30 every Wednesday evening.

What was all this talk about Melvyn Douglas being challenged as a radical after he was appointed to a job by Governor Olson? Honolulu papers made quite a to-do about it. Well, apparently the movies don't believe there is anything to it for Melvyn seems to be doing all right in his film career.

He has been engaged to play opposite Claudette Colbert in "Sky-lark."

Mrs. William Danforth, Miss Helen Rich, Mrs. George F. Clements and Mrs. George A. Halmar are members of the executive board of the new Gertrude Lawrence Chapter of the American Theater Wing of War Relief, which will have its first public meeting tomorrow at the Old Hedge House, Yarmouth.

Miss Lawrence, who helped organize the chapter last week while appearing at the Cape Playhouse will be guest of honor at the tea together with Diana Hammond,
Arthur Treacher, and Tamara.
Mrs. Horatio Gilbert and Mr.
Stewart Raynor are co-chairmen of the working committee, assisted by Mrs. Joseph R. McCool, Mrs. Deborah Leavitt Kimball, Mrs. Milton
Lusk, and Mrs. E. G. Biechler.

The following programs are announced by Arthur Fiedler for the Esplanade concerts which open tomorrow and which Mr. Fiedler inaugurated 12 seasons ago. The concerts which begin tomorrow at 8:30 will be given in the new Edward Hatch Memorial theatre above.

Most people never think of their kidneys as being the most important organs in their bodies. They are, however, and they are doing a million tiny tubes and work night and day cleaning and filtering excess acids, poisons, and wastes from your blood. Because they never get a real rest it's easy to see that your kidneys are overworked. They are tired and slow down. These excess acids and wastes may accumulate and poison your system, and cause a variety of ailments, such as organic or systemic Kidney and Bladder trouble. So if you have to get up nights, or if you have backaches, pains in your legs, sags, backaches and groin pains, due to non-organic and non-symptomatic kidney trouble, you may make a mistake in trying the prescription called Cystex. Over the years, Cystex has been sold in 43 countries and have given such joyous, happy relief to so many thousands of people that it is now sold in 48 countries with a guarantee of money back on return of empty package unless completely satisfied. Write for a free literature and a drug-free, safe and pleasant formula to your doctor or pharmacist.

absorb the government defense tax which goes into effect today? . . . George Pattulla, who graduated from a Boston newspaper into the field of fiction-writing and then went on to become a major war correspondent in the World War, has turned out a new book entitled "A Grog Rooster Crows Everywhere" . . . The volume is a compilation of yarns which George wrote—some of them in lead pencil on inverted lead pads in cow-camps . . . The locale of the stories is the Arkansas, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona territory.

CLOSER TO HOME is the genesis of another fiction-writer, Judge Michael W. Albano of Springfield, who sits as associate justice of the district court in Great Barrington . . . The judge served as assistant secretary to Governor Hussey . . . His first brainchild is the result of two years spare-time work and is entitled "Souls Judgement Day" . . . In line with this column's assertion that Alfred E. Smith was an off-stage adviser of the Willie forces, now friendly is former Governor Ely of Massachusetts with the Republican candidate? . . . We are asking this one, not declaring it as fact . . . Bob Miller, press-agent, Mack Miller, got the disturbing news that his brother had died in Pittsburgh just as Mack, exhausted from treading the East, was boarding a plane for his home in Hollywood yesterday.

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN

HOW TO GET A LOAN AT LOWER COST

You can borrow $100 if you can pay back $6.41 a month

You can get a personal loan of $20 to $300 at Household Finance without endorsers or guarantors—if you can repay in small monthly installments.

Payments to fit your purse

You may choose the most convenient repayment plan from the table below. Suppose that you need $100 and you can readily repay $9.75 a month. Your installments will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.41 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

See the sample loans and payment plans in the table. (Loans also made in other amounts and for other periods.) Payments in the table repay everything. They include charges at Household's rate of 24% per month. This rate is less than the maximum permitted by the Massachusetts Small Loan Law. Note that the sooner you repay, the less your loan costs.

Simple to borrow

We require no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) No credit inquiries made of friends or relatives. And you don't have to ask friends or fellow-workers top the papers with you.

Can You Beat It!

West Lone Bee On N.L. Stars; 4 Sox on A.L.

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—No matter who makes the selections, surprises never cease in the annual choosing of sides for baseball's big All-Star game.

The major leagues took the task away from the fans and turned it over to the managers, but the National and American League squads announced today for the eighth annual spectacle July 9 at Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, are bound to make a lot of the fans wonder why.

There is no question but that Bill McKechnie and Joe Cronin, the respective pilots, will have capable crews to send into action as well as adequate reserves.

DOERR OVERLOOKED

But some of the people who have been steamed up about Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox being the best second baseman in the game at present are going to be disturbed by his absence.

The American League managers, who evidently ignored both the team standings and the batting averages, selected seven of the faltering New York Yankees for the squad. They overlooked Rip Radcliff of the St. Louis Browns, who as of Saturday was tied for the league lead in batting, and Barney McCosky of Detroit, who is playing magnificent ball in the Tigers' outfield and is third among the league's hitters.

PASS OVER LEADING HITTERS

The National League managers passed over the senior circuit's three leading pitchers, rated on won and lost records, Outfielder Dixie Walker of Brooklyn, who is second among the hitters, and all of the loop's rookie talent.

All eight managers in each league participated in the selections.

The National League re-elected 15 of the 25 players who represented it unsuccessfully a year ago in Yankee Stadium, chose four stars who had been named in other seasons but missed out last year, and gave a half dozen players their first assignments to the big attraction.

This latter group included pitchers Hugh Mulcahy and Kirby Higbe and Third Baseman Merrill May of the Phillies, Pitcher Larry French of the Chicago Cubs, Second Baseman Pete Coscarart of Brooklyn and Outfielder Max West of the Boston Bees.

One choice certain to meet with approval was Carl Hubbell, the southpaw star of the New York Giants, who was named to every all-star squad except last year's.

The National League will have no member who has appeared in every game. Gabby Hartnett, who was one of the catchers for the first six years and the manager last July, dropped out this time.

The American League still will have one charter player, durable Jimmie Foxx of the Boston Red Sox on first base.

On the National League team will be no less than four players who have participated in every All-Star game except the first—Bill Herman of the Cubs, Arky Vaughan of the Pirates, Joe Medwick of the Dodgers and Mel Ott of the Giants—while the American League will have just one seven-year man, Bill Dickey of the Yankees.

GROVE FINALLY FAILS

The American League turned to new faces this time, dropping Lefty Grove of the Red Sox, Lefty Gomez of the Yankees and Charley Gehring of Detroit for the first time since the game was conceived. The junior circuit will have nine players making their all-star debut, four of them from the Cleveland Indians.

The rookie infield sensations, Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack were named along with pitcher Al Milnar and Ken Keltner from the Tribe. The other newcomers will be pitchers Dutch Leonard of Washington and Monte Pearson of the Yankees and outfielders Charley Keller of the Yankees and Lou Finney and Ted Williams of the Red Sox.

A. L. RECORDS BETTER
The American League will have a big edge in pitching strength on the basis of games won and lost. The composite record of its staff of seven pitchers is 56 and 27 while the National League hurlers have a combined mark of 50 and 39.

The junior circuit will have a similar superiority in batting power. Only one of the National League outfielders, Joe Moore of the Giants, was batting over .300 on Saturday.

National League All-Stars

Pitchers—Paul Derringer and Bucky Walters, Cincinnati; Hugh Mulcahy and Kirby Higbe, Philadelphia; Larry French, Chicago; Carl Hubbell, New York; and Whitlow Wyatt, Brooklyn.

Racing Secretary Bill Fineran is planning an all-star program for the night before the fourth of July at Wonderland in Revere.

The feature race of the night, the Independence Day Stakes, brings together a group of classy distance runners over the Revere Course, the first time the greyhounds have gone over the distance this season. The race is for an added purse.

Many Enter Dilboy Bouts

Entries began to pour in today to Fred Russo with indications that this week's Dilboy Post, V. F. W., fight show—to be staged Wednesday night, at Dilboy Field, Somerville—will surpass that of last week.

This program will be the second elimination round in the 1940 Golden Glove championships, sanctioned by the New England A. A. U.

There will be at least 20 matches on the program. The first mixup will get under way at 8:15.

As will be the case throughout the summer, competition will be in the 126, 135, 147, 160 and heavy-weight classes, all open. Entries may be filed with Fred Russo, 8 Curtis st., Somerville, or in care of the Somerville City Hall.

Dempsey Fights Wrestler

ATLANTA, July 1 (AP)—Eight years out of the legitimate pugilistic business in which he became a world idol, William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey returns to the ring here tonight to settle a grudge with a rough and tumble wrestler from Texas.

The opponent of the 45-year-old Manassa Mauler, over a scheduled 10-round distance in the local baseball park, is Clarence (Cowboy) Luttrell, with whom the former heavyweight king has traded blows in his role as a wrestling referee on three occasions.

Some 15,000 fans are expected to jam the park for what is whispered inside Dempsey's camp as his second "comeback" attempt, this effort to be part of a test for a possible scrap with the current heavyweight king, Brown Bomber Joe Louis. Dempsey will enter the ring weighing 205, his opponent 220.

"I feel great," said Dempsey, "and I think I can get this over with in a hurry. I've got all my old time punch, but of course, my legs aren't what they used to be and my wind may be short. That's the reason I will cut loose for a quick knockout. I'm not worried about the outcome."

WITH A FAST TRACK for the Yankee Handicap at Suffolk Downs on July 4, Col. E. R. Bradley's Bimelech will not be burdened down too much with an impost of 128 pounds. This is only two pounds more than Bimelech carried in the Kentucky Derby.

BIMELECH

If Bimelech had won the Derby and continued winning since, Racing Secretary Charley McLennan would have been obliged to pack so much weight on Bimelech that the Bradley horse probably would not have been a starter in the Yankee Handicap.

"My problem was made easier when Bimelech met with two defeats this year," said McLennan. "At 128 pounds Bimelech will run if the track is fast. Trainer Bill Hurley does not like mud for his horse, and Bimelech will probably be scratched if it comes up muddy on the holiday."

"Don't you think we have had sufficient rain for one race meeting? We may get the break we have been looking for on July 4. If we do, we shall see a great race in the Yankee, while the crowd will be one of the largest in the history of New England."

Col. Bradley and Samuel Riddle Here

BRUCE WETMORE says Col. E. R. Bradley and Samuel Riddle will be at Suffolk Downs for the remainder of the meeting.

"I think it is a fine tribute to New England racing that Col. E. R. Bradley and Samuel Riddle have passed up New York for Suffolk Downs," said Wetmore. "We shall continue trying to give the public the best there is in racing, and by so doing I am confident that the sport will continue to grow in popularity here. We want men like Col. Bradley and Samuel Riddle to return to Suffolk Downs each year and to bring their friends with them."

The racing has been good at Suffolk Downs, while the attendance and mutual handle has been picking up.

"If we get some good weather," asserted Wetmore, "we shall crack last year's figures."

Baer and Galento in Jersey City Ring

THE BOUT BETWEEN Max Baer and Tony Galento at Jersey City tomorrow night in aid of a charity fund should be more interesting than the recent Joe Louis-Arturo Godoy battle. Baer and Galento are each trying to stage a ring surge that will end with a Louis tussle.

Max and Tony have trained faithfully for tomorrow night's contest, and should be in better condition than they have been in for some time.

Baer, of course, will never again be able to reach the form that enabled him to knock out Ernie Schaaf and Max Schmeling. Max has lost some of his old fire, but he has gained a seriousness that should find him giving 100 per cent effort against Galento.

It will be Galento's first start since the death of Joe Jacobs, his former manager. Jacobs was the spark plug of the Galento camp, and it is a question as to how good Tony will be without "Little Joe" in his corner.

Galento has not been so successful cracking into the headlines since Jacobs died. It is apparent that Jacobs was 75 per cent of Galento's success in the matter of hallyhoo.

Jacobs liked to go places and do things and he always kept Galento in his company. Jacobs could think of 100 things for the Newark tavern keeper to do that made good copy.

Mike Jacobs' Twentieth Century Club is promoting the Baer-Galento bout. It has the strong backing in this bout of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City who always assists worthy charities in his State. The Hague ticket drive will swell the box office receipts by many thousands of dollars.

JOHNNY O'CONNOR, manager of Fred Waring, was among those who attended Saturday's races at Suffolk Downs . . . Johnny is a friend of Jockey Bobby Merritt who he rates with the leaders in his line.

Al McCoy of this city and Solly Krieger of Brooklyn, former world's middleweight champion, will try to get their postponed bout out of the way when they collide in a ten-round bout at Dexter Park, Brooklyn, tonight . . . In McCoy's last Boston start, he easily defeated Mello Bettina, former world's light heavyweight champion . . . Matchmaker "Rip" Valenti of the Goodwin A. C. has offered Billy Conn a guarantee of $15,000 to defend his world's light heavyweight championship against McCoy in Boston in September at the time of the American Legion Convention . . . McCoy was at 179½ pounds for his bout with Bettina and says he will be able to reduce to 175 pounds for Conn . . . The latter will meet Bob Pastor in New York on August 13.

Fear weather has already cost baseball managers more than $2,000,000 . . . A long list of double headers will help win back a small part of this money.

BAER-GALENTO BOUT ON Chin Cut Not Serious, Say Medicos

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 1 (AP)—Abe Greene, New Jersey state boxing commissioner, said today Tony Galento would fight Max Baer tomorrow night despite a cut on the chin received when hit by a beer glass early this morning.

Tony suffered the injury in his bar-room when, during a dispute, his brother, Russell, was said to have pitched the glass at him.

The cut, from a quarter to half-inch in length, is not serious, Greene said.

"In fact, Tony said he didn't know he was hurt until several minutes later when a friend he added."

"He was examined and treated first by his personal physician, Dr. Joseph C. Higl of Orange, and re-examined by Dr. Max E.

Stern of Newark, a physician of the New Jersey State Athletic Commission.

"The physicians report the abrasion suffered by Galento is in the fleshy part of the chin and will not present any difficulty, even if it may be reopened in the course of the contest."

"Their official description of the abrasion is that: 'It is a straight, clean, superficial incision.'"

"Galento himself declared that he is in the best condition of his career and insisted vigorously that the abrasion is inconsequential, would have no effect on him and would only spur him on to speedier victory."

Tony customarily does his tapering off before a fight in his Orange saloon, where he can check on the cash on hand and regulate his customers with an outline of his plans for the pending engagement.

That's where he was when Russell asked for a couple of tickets for the fight, so the story goes. Tony cut him off with a curt "see me Tuesday," and Russell let fly with the plus.

Available interested parties said the cut was no where near as serious as first reports indicated.

"HELLO BOSTON." Frank Shellenback, Red Sox pitching coach, enlarges Boston population by six by bringing happy, vigorous young family on from his West Coast home. Frank plans to make Boston his permanent residence, and the kiddos are all enthused about it. Left to right: Margaret (hasn't she got Shirley Temple beaten?) Betty, Richard, Frank, Jr., (wait till you see him pitch), Frances and Barbara, who will have the high school boys falling all over them come September. Did you ever see a healthier young family?

Bees Short on Hurlers Invading Polo Grounds

NEW YORK, July 1—Leaving Brooklyn with a sweet victory under their belts, the Bees moved into Polo Grounds today for a short two-game series with the surprising Giants.

Those Giants laughed at by everybody this spring, are nicely spotted in third place just a game away from Brooklyn and within hailing distance of the league leading Cincinnati.

One of the big reasons for the success of the Terrymen this year has been the knack they have of clouting the Bees. To date, the records show that the Jernits have whipped the Bees no less than seven out of eight times. As a matter of fact it was seven in a row going into the final game of their last series in Boston when the Swarn finally broke the ice.

SIDELINED BY INFECTION

Casey Stengel would like nothing better than to get off to a win today but he will have to gamble on Al Piechota who has been sidelined for some time with an infection. Having used his four starters in three days against the Dodgers, Casey is forced to take a chance that the long layoff hasn't bothered his husky right-hander too greatly.

The Bees arrived here after splitting a doubleheader with the Dodgers yesterday before a crowd that numbered 23,909. Those hard hitting Dodgers took the opener 9 to 2, and rang up their sixth straight triumph over the Bees but the Stenglers came fighting right back and came home with a well earned 7 to 2 triumph.

SISTI HITS FIRST HOMER

In the nightcap, Manny Salvo and Luke "Hot Potato" Hamlin hooked up in a hill duel for two innings before the Bees found the range.

Eddie Miller started the third with a single and moved to third when Berres duplicated. Salvo got a "life" on Hudson's boot and Miller scored. Hassett singled counting Berres and when Sisti hit his first home run of the year scoring Salvo and Hassett ahead of him, the game was in as far as the Bees were concerned. Moore went out and Ross followed with a single that spelled finish for Luke.

Vito Tamulis, the South Boston boy who has become a relief hurler, was rushed into the game and he retired the Bees without any further scoring.

In fact Tamulis held the Bees

Amateurs Fight In Medford

Fireworks will start popping tonight at Riverside Park, Medford, where the 101st Infantry stages its first amateur boxing show of the season under floodlights, with top fighters from this section pitching gloves.

Twenty bouts are in prospect, the fighting to take place in the 125, 135, 147, 160 and heavyweight classes.

In the heavyweight and 160-pound division, the tops in boxing entertainment are offered. The heavies will be paced by John Pretzie, Boston, and Jerry Murane, Dorchester, while the middleweights should offer a wide open slug-fest, headed by Salvatore Cesario, Boston.

A long entry list fills in the other classes with the top fighters signed up to offer the fans one of the best opening shows in the Infantry's history.

McNeill, Hunt Play Net Final

HAVERFORD, Pa., July 1 (AP)

—Don McNeill, national clay courts champion and Joseph R. Hunt of the U. S. Naval Academy, swept all opposition from the courts of the Merion Cricket Club here to advance to the finals of the national intercollegiate tennis tournament.

Hunt, cut short the bid of Frank Guernsey, Rice Institute, for his third consecutive title in a sparkling four-set encounter, 6-4, 7-3, 4-6, 6-4.

McNeill, Kenyon, O. college ace, routed William Talbert, University of Cincinnati, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, 6-0.

McNeill, the tourney favorite, and Hunt, seeded second, meet today for the title.

CRONIN REJOICES JUNE'S ENDED

Bagby Seeks Fourth Victory Against A's

Happy that they're through with June, wherein they won only 14 out of 30 games and dropped from first to third place, the Red Sox today enter July by opening a four-game series with the Philadelphia Athletics at the Fens.

"June has been our jinx month ever since I've been in Boston," asserted Manager Joe Cronin this morning. "I'm confident we'll pick up speed from here in. In fact I wouldn't be surprised if we were back on top by the time we start on our next Western trip three weeks from now."

Despite their frequent slumps the past four weeks, the Hose are still within hailing distance of the roof. By taking both ends of yesterday's doubleheader from the Senators, to split the four-game series, while Cleveland and Detroit had to be satisfied with dividing twin-bills, the natives now trail the pacesetter Indians by only 3½ games and are but 1½ games back of the second-place Tigers.

SEEKS SIXTH WIN

Jon Bagby will get the nod to face the A's this afternoon. He'll be after his sixth win.

"Junior" hasn't turned in a triumph since he relieved Mose Grove and was returned victor over the White Sox in Chicago two weeks ago yesterday, but he pitched well enough in Detroit last Thursday to win nine games out of 10. He held the slugging Tigers to one run over a seven-inning stretch, but not until he was removed for a pinch-hitter and relieved by Herb Hash did his mates get around to breaking into the run column and winning the decision.

Invariably, when the Sox lose a game their pitchers are blamed. However, as many Sox setbacks have been due to weak hitting as to poor pitching of late.

Reputedly the heaviest hitting aggregation in the majors, the Cronin clouters are failing to live up to their reputations these days. ONLY THREE ABOVE 300

The only regulars who are batting above .300 are Lou Finney, Doc Cramer and Teddy Williams.

But it must be admitted that the Fenway favorites are making their hits count. Or, at least, they were in the Sunday doubleheader witnessed by a crowd of 23,000.

They were out-slugged 13 to 6 in the opener and 11 to 7 in the nightcap.

Yet they won both games, 6 to 5 and 5 to 4, by inserting their assets in the proper places.

They made all their hits in the opener against Willie Hudlin, former Indian, in the second and third frames. Skipper Cronin came through with his seventh homer in a four-run second and Bobby Doerr drove in two runs in the third with his fifth round-tripper.

Thereafter, they couldn't get a safety off Rene Montegudo, little Cuban southpaw, who finished up on the Senators' slab.

FOURTH FOR GROVE

They had done enough scoring, however, to furnish Ol' Mose Grove his fourth win of the campaign.

"Lefty" needed help at the finish. Going into the ninth with a 5 to 3 lead, he retired the first two batters. Then he was found for a homer by Gerry Walker, double by Zeke Bonura and singles by Cecil Travis and Jimmy Bloodworth.

Another bingle would have tied the score. So Joe Heving was called in from the bullpen to save the verdict and he responded brilliantly by throwing a third strike past Jake Early, pinch-hitting for Jimmy Pofahl.

Not until the eighth inning did the Croninmen get around to cinching the nightcap.

They furnished Herbie Hash with a two-run lead in the opening stanza but Herbert gave up two runs in the second and two more in the sixth, when he gave way to Charlie Wagner.

HEVING TO RESCUE AGAIN

Trailing 4 to 2 going into the eighth, Joe Glenn drew a walk from Walter Masterson, Finney doubled, Cramer singled and Williams doubled. That tied the score. Then Fox was purposely passed.

filling the bases, and Tabor rescued what proved to be the winning marker as he rolled out.

Heving was again called on, this time to protect a lead which would give Wagner his first triumph of the year.

Joe couldn't prevent Travis, first Nat up in the ninth, from doubling to deep right, but he did prevent the visitor scoring the tying run. He kept Cecil away from the plate while he retired Buddy Myer, Charlie Gelbert and Jake Early on infield taps.

Thus the Sox closed a bad month in a blaze of glory.

U. S. 2d Best Not So Bad

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Strangest thing about a political convention is how everybody screams after the presidential nominee is tagged and crated.

Newspapermen, alternates and delegates flee to the hills haunted by the fear that the last man left in town will have to accept the office of vice-president.

Yet, it's a responsible position with nice money and you never have to make a decision that cannot be postponed.

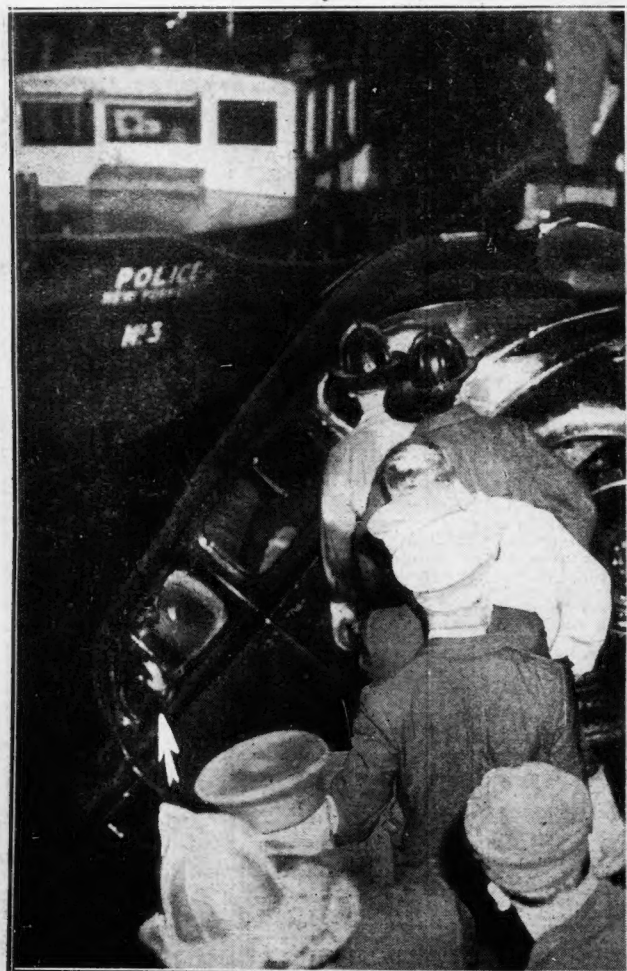

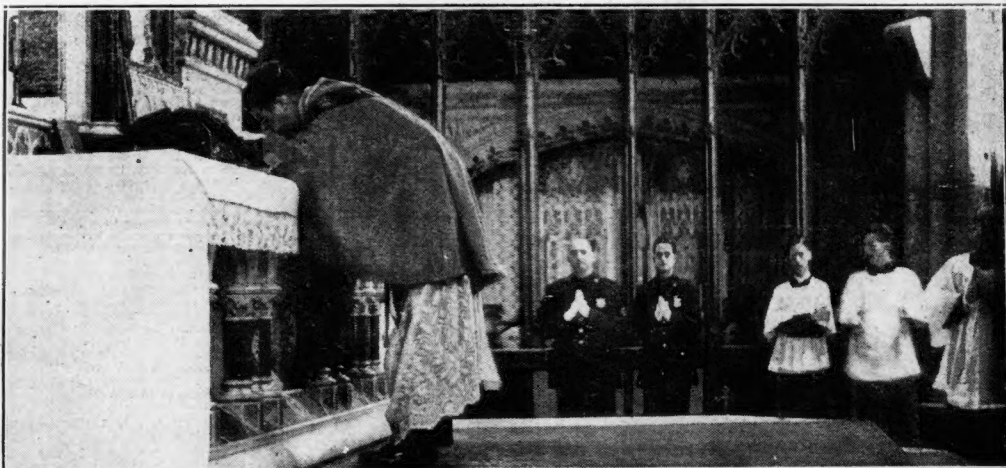

But, for some reason, no man who ever got a vote for President seems willing to play second fiddle in a two-man orchestra.

That's foolish. All you have to do is fill a silk hat and a swivel chair. And, reading from left to right, you don't even have to be there.
